George Jones' Funeral Saturday

By WAT TAKESHITA

Last rites for veteran County Clerk George Sherman Jones, 75, will be held at St. Raphael's Church in San Rafael Saturday morning.

Jones, a lifetime resident of Marin County and a civic leader for about a half century, collapsed yesterday afternoon on a B Street sidewalk near Julia Street, apparently from a heart attack. He had suffered from heart ailment in the past.

Active to the end, Jones had just attended a luncheon of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce civic affairs committee at Mission Inn, where he ate a hearty meal.

Attorney Julius Selinger, who sat next to Jones at the luncheon, said the county clerk was in his usual good spirits. When Selinger moved to have the Chamber of Commerce committee approve the Fifth Avenue and E Street site for a new San Rafael City Hall, Jones joined in the vote to approve.

That was his last official act in his long civic career, which started as a deputy sheriff in Marin before the 1906 San Francisco earthquake.

When the luncheon broke up about 1:30, Jones walked out onto B Street with the others. He was stricken about 10 minutes later, a block away from the courthouse where he had worked for 36 years.

"His knowledge of the county and his administrative abilities will be a big loss to the supervisors," Chairman Walter R. Castro of the Marin County Board of Supervisors declared. Castro knew Jones since their boyhood.

"He was one of my best personal friends," said County Tax Collector M. F. Donohue. "He was an active and dedicated citizen. He may have stepped on some people's toes, but there is no question that his passing is a big loss to the community."

Donohue and Jones attended Sausalito's Central School together, and their careers in county service had been almost identical. Both had announced they would retire from their public posts at the end of this year.

Gnoss Appointed As County Clerk

Castro Regrets Quick Action; Necessary For Legal Reasons

George Gnoss of Novato, deputy county clerk since 1944, late yesterday was appointed county clerk to succeed George S. Jones.

The appointment was by unanimous vote of county supervisors at a special emergency meeting three hours after Jones's death from an apparent heart attack.

Chairman Walter R. Castro expressed regret today that such fast procedure had been found necessary but said it was necessary for legal reasons.

"Judges and county counsel told me the office could not function," said Castro. "This is the only county office where such a thing could happen. I think the situation was unnecessary but we couldn't get around it."

Castro accordingly called a special session for 4:30 p.m. Supervisor Peter Behr was delayed in driving from San Francisco but arrived at 4:45 p.m. and the meeting ended 10 minutes later.

After a brief explanation of the emergency, Castro asked for comments. Supervisor William Gnoss, brother of the deputy clerk, asked advice from county counsel.

County Counsel E. Warren McGuire said the board had two possibilities. Government code provides, he said, that the clerk's duties may be temporarily discharged by the chief deputy if he is willing to undertake them, or the board may appoint to such a vacant elective office.

"I feel that our chief deputy (Gnoss) has done a good job," said Supervisor George Ludy. "He knows the duties.

"While we all defer to Mr. Jones's daughter (Agnes Nathanson, assistant county clerk), I spoke to her two weeks ago and she's well satisfied where she is. So I'd favor George Gnoss."

Behr said: "I would feel this to be a proper appointment under the circumstances, especially in view of the situation which has arisen with Mr. Jone's daughter bereaved and her lack of desire to fill the office on a permanent basis."

Gnoss is thus far the only candidate for clerk in the June election.

Supervisor William D. Fusselman then moved appointment of Gnoss as clerk, Ludy seconded and the motion passed unanimously just three minutes after the meeting had opened.

But this was rescinded on McGuire's suggestion that Gnoss only be "requested to discharge the duties until he

U.S., Russ Clash At Disarm Talks

Proposed Air Tests Assailed

GENEVA (AP)—U. S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko clashed today at the very outset of the 17-nation disarmament conference.

Gromyko denounced as a painful blow to the conference the plans of the United States to start new atmospheric tests in late April unless there is agreement here to end all such tests under strict controls.

USSR BLASTS

Rusk replied that the present conference was born amid the echoing roars of more than 40 Soviet nuclear explosions last fall and that the Soviet Union, in view of its record, was one of the least-qualified of nations to criticize the United States.

Rusk and Gromyko presented sweeping and detailed plans for disarming the world.

The stated aims were the same. But the methods differed so sharply as to revive at once the old shadow of deadlock which has hung over all disdisarmament negotiations of the postwar period.

ROCKET CUTS

Rusk called for a 30 per cent cut in nuclear armed rockets and big bombers and in suchc conventional military weapons as tanks and warships in three years. He proposed a prohibition on production of nuclear weapons and that the United States and Soviet Union each transfer 55 tons of weapons (grade U-235—explosive uranium) to peaceful purposes.

Connected with the plan were proposed measures to prevent surprise attack and for an international inspection system. The measures included aerial inspection areas, ground observation posts at strategic points and a system of notification of missile firings to prevent the world from being plunged into war by accident, miscalculations, failure of communications or surprise attack.

Leading off the speeches, Gromyko called for total disarmament from rockets to rifles and from armies and divisions to general staffs in four years.

He presented a draft of a disarmament treaty in which, he said, an international inspection system would be instituted gradually as arms reduction proceeded.

JFK GOES TO BAT FOR U.S. CONSUMER

President Sends Congress Plans To Protect American Housewives

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy today sent Congress a jumbo-size package of proposals to protect the consumer. He expressed sympathy for America's prime buyer, the housewife.

In recommendations that would cost about 10 million dollars a year in addition to programs already covered in budget requests, he urged steps to assure:

Safe, effective drugs for the ailing;

Beauty aids that won't burn a lady's skin;

TV sets that will get more channels;

Installment contracts that reveal the true rate of interest;

Wider inspection to bar unwholesome meat from dinner tables;

Legislation already is under consideration on some of these points.

With a bow to the homemakers, Kennedy said "many of the new products used in the home are highly complex. The housewife is called upon to be an amateur electrician, mechanic, chemist, toxicologist, dietitian, and mathematician—but she is rarely furnished the information she needs to perform these tasks proficiently."

But Kennedy disclosed he hasn't yet solved a puzzle—how to help the housewife tell which is the best buy — the large package, the giant, the jumbo or the economy size. He said he would have recommendations later on truth in packaging.

Many of Kennedy's recommendations are in legislation already before Congress — though officials said that in some cases he went beyond the pending bills.

The president also announced he has ordered:

1. His Council of Economic Advisers to create a consumers' advisory counsel.

2. Various federal agency heads to name special assistants on consumer problems.

3. The Post Office Department to set up a pilot program by displaying, in 100 post offices, publications useful to consumers.

As for drugs, Kennedy said 9,000 new ones developed in the past quarter century have saved countless lives. But many don't live up to sponsors' claims, he said. So he urged that manufacturers be required to show that a drug is effective, as well as safe, before marketing.

Ferryboats Back, Service To Begin

Showboat Transportation Co., will start Tiburon - San Francisco ferry service March 26 on a commuter club basis, it was announced today.

Daily service will be provided at $30 a month, starting April 2, but those signing up will receive a week's free rides starting March 26, announced Barth and Howell, Inc., public relations firm on the Boardwalk, Belvedere, which is handling all arrangements.

The firm has also applied for public utilities commission permission to operate ferries between Tiburon and San Francisco on a public carrier basis.

The Harbor Tourist will be used for the commute club boat, said Barth and Howell. It will leave the Dock at Tiburon at 7:45 a.m. daily, making a 30-minute run to the Ferry Building in San Francisco. Return trip will leave the Ferry Buildings at 5:30 p.m.

Car 'Hooker' Play Damages Tam's Track

Several hundred dollars of damage was done to two baseball diamonds and the running track at Tamalpais High School last night by two drivers "spinning hookers."

This was reported to sheriff's Sgt. Guy Gibbs today by Vice Principal John George.

Gibbs said an intensive investigation will be made. He asked that any citizens who observed any person on the playing fields last night notify the sheriff's office.

"Spinning hookers," Gibbs explained, is done by driving a car, hitting soft mud and cramping brakes so the car will spin. He said it is believed two cars made the ruts.

Emporium Eyeing Location In Marin

The Emporium, San Francisco's largest department store, is "seriously negotiating" for a location in San Rafael, it was revealed today.

Also rumored to be dickering for locations in the Northgate Shopping Center near Terra Linda were Joseph Magnin Co., women's wear store, and Roos-Atkins, men's wear.

A story in Women's Wear Daily, a trade publication, named Emporium-Capwell Co. and Joseph Magnin Co. as negotiating with the Draper Companies, developer and owner of the 21-acre Northgate Shopping Center.

Tim Michaud, director of corporate relations for Draper, said the trade paper story was "unauthorized," but admitted negotiations for space in the center are under way with a department store firm.

Frederic Hirschler, president of Emporium-Capwell Corp., said his firm is negotiating but talks have "not yet reached the planning stage."

Walter S. Newman, Joseph Magnin vice president, said his firm has not entered into negotiations but is "considering several Marin County locations."

Now in the Northgate Center are Purity Stores, Union and Standard Oil service stations, Crocker-Anglo Bank, a

Unions Ready For Shutdown In Shipping

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A new breakdown in 11th hour negotiations promped a union call for a strike at 5 p.m. tomorrow that would shut down West Coast shipping.

The breakdown came late last night after federal mediators had appeared hopeful of reaching agreement between the Pacific Maritime Assn. and the Pacific District of the Seafarers International Union.

The Seafarers represent three unions involved directly —Sailors Union of the Pacific, Marine Firemen and Marine Cooks and Stewards.

The shipowners' offer of an 11.8 per cent increase in wages and fringe benefits over a three-year contract was rejected.

Union demands include a wide range of contract improvements concerning wages, overtime, vacations, pensions, health and welfare benefits.

ANYWAY YOU FIGURE IT, TITLE'S A TIGHT FIT

LONDON (UPI)—Mrs. Dorothy Waugh, a 156-pound British housewife who has 40-30-42 measurements, last night won the title "Miss Fat and Beautiful" in a contest sponsored by the Large Girls Club of England.

"Call me fat if you like," said Mrs. Waugh, "but I'm happy and healthy, and besides, my husband likes me the way I am."

Mrs. Waugh was not always "pleasingly plump." In 1951 she won the title "Miss Scotland" when her measurements had slick beauty contest proportions of 34-22-36.

Dampened Marin Can Expect More Rain Tonight, Tomorrow

Rain is expected tonight and another storm reaching Marin County from the north tomorrow may provide intermittent showers through tomorrow night, the weather bureau said today.

The whole county was dampened down more or less through last night, with considerable variation in amounts recorded.

Tamalpais Valley measured .42 of an inch in the 24 hours to 8 a.m. today. But at the county fire station at Woodacre, where rainfall usually is heavy, the total was only .20 of an inch. Mill Valley had .28, and Belvedere and Sausalito, .25; Novato, only .05.

San Rafael had .2 of an inch up to noon today.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Scientist Arthur Compton Dies

BERKELEY (UPI) — Nobel laureate Dr. Arthur Holly Compton, one of the men directly responsible for development of the atomic bomb, died today at 69.

DR. ARTHUR COMPTON

Compton was admitted to Alta Bates Community Hospital March 1, suffering from dizziness and nausea. His illness was diagnosed as a cerebral hemorrhage. He lost consciousness March 3, and remained so until his death.

The tall, bushy-browed scientist won the Nobel Prize for physics in 1927 for his investigation of X-rays and their interaction with matter.

He became best known, however, for his work as both administrator and scientist in the development of the atomic bomb.

In the early days of World War II, when creation of the bomb was still only a possibility, Compton served on government committees that set up the facilities for nuclear development.

Nazi Foe Punished

SAN DIEGO (AP)—School officials have reprimanded the student who slugged George Lincoln Rockwell, head of the American Nazi party, at a meeting at San Diego State College.

The disciplinary action against Edward Cherry, 22, was recommended by the student body's judicial board. It also recommended one-year disciplinary probation for Warren P. von Blum and Norman A. Frankland, who admitted throwing eggs at Rockwell.

IRS Wants Dressing

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Internal Revenue Service has asked Congress for four million dollars to dress up its offices.

Commissioner Mortimer M. Caplin made the request in testimony released yesterday by a House Appropriations subcommittee. He complained that many IRS offices are run-down. He said as a result "we have a shabby public image. I think the American public is entitled to more than that."

Saiga Aid Wanted

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The director of San Francisco's Fleishhacker Zoo made an appeal today for advice on the care and feeding of a cantankerous critter known as a Russian saiga.

Three of the $1,500 dual-horned, sheep-like antelope from the Siberian Steppes are scheduled to arrive at the zoo Saturday.

"Oh, my, they're ugly," zoo director Carey Baldwin said. "They are nervous, hard to get along with, and dificult to keep alive in captivity—but I'm sure looking forward to getting them here."

Butler Cleared

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A jury has cleared Mary Pickford's former butler of a charge that he illegally took Miss Pickford's 25-carat sapphire ring to Switzerland.

William Francis Paul admitted he took the ring to Zurich but testified he did it only to establish a true valuation.

Unruh To Run

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Speaker Jesse M. Unruh (D-Los Angeles) will seek a fifth term as assemblyman, his office announced today. Unruh, ill with flu, is expected to return to Sacramento Monday from his Inglewood home.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Colder-than-normal weather will continue through most of the nation for another 30 days, the Weather Bureau reported yesterday.

Terror Attack

ALGIERS (UPI)—Series of terror attacks left a trail of dead and wounded in the Arab quarter today and sent screaming Arabs pouring to the streets.

Within a 55-minute early-morning period, 13 Arabs were killed and at least 17 others were injured in five separate incidents.

Police said the commando attacks apparently were the work of the rightwing secret army organization (OAS), which is pledged to fight Algerian independence.

Sinatra Suit Dropped

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A parking lot attendant dropped his $100,000 battery suit against actor Frank Sinatra after the matter was settled for an unspecified sum.

Edward Moran, 22, had complained that Sinatra and a friend beat him in an altercation in May, 1960, in a night-club parking lot.

JFK Cautions Reds Against Provoking Allies In Berlin

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy has cautioned the Soviet Union against provoking the Allies into retaliating to its particularly dangerous harassment in the air corridors to Berlin.

Soviet flights into space reserved for Western planes and showering of metallic flakes in an apparent effort—so far unsuccessful — to upset airway radar systems make it even more difficult to reach an agreement on Berlin, Kennedy tolds a news conference yesterday.

With the situation so hot, Kennedy said, both sides should avoid incidents that may lead to "actions and counteractions which can only intensify the danger."

He called the Soviet spreading of metallic chaff in the corridors "a particularly dangerous kind of action." And he said the West is waiting to see how the Soviet Union reacts to very vigorous protests by Secretary of State Dean Rusk and British Foreign Secretary Lord Home.

Questions about the 17-nation disarmament conference at Geneva set the theme for Kennedy's conference. But it ranged over matters from storm insurance to fighting in South Viet Nam.

Kennedy derided criticism of his 4.9-billion-dollar foreign aid request and asserted "it would be the most unwise act possible to cut our assistance program." Aid to Allies and emerging nations, he said, is just as important as our national defense. These countries, he said, are right in the line of fire.

In the area of security, he said the U. S. position would be strengthened if there were no more nuclear tests in the atmosphere, including the series he has ordered to begin next month. For this reason, he said, the United States wants to conclude an effective safeguarded test ban treaty.

The chief executive opened the conference by reading part of a letter to Rusk in which he expressed hope for early agreement on the outlines of a general disarmament program and on specific steps that could be taken while the over-all problem is being argued back and forth.

In reply to a question, Kennedy increased the number of circumstances under which he might attend a summit conference.

He repeated that he would go to sign a treaty or "if we were on a brink of a war or a serious international crisis, where my presence would make a significant difference."

Then he said he would add a third possibility: "I would go if I thought it was in our national interest."

In other matters:

Politics — Kennedy said he would not participate in the campaign of his youngest brother, Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy, for the Democratic senatorial nomination in Massachusetts.

Medical Care—Kennedy said his administration will go all-out to put over his program for medical care for the aged. He said definitely it will come to a vote this year in the Senate and he hopes in the House.

Viet Nam—If fighting in Viet Nam raised the constitutional question of sending U.S. troops into combat, Kennedy said, of course he would seek congressional approval.

Storm Insurance—Enormous damage inflicted on the East Coast last week, he said, illustrates the desirability of federal insurance and co-insurance against storm destruction. He promised to study the possibility of recommending an appropriation for that purpose.

Defense Contracts—Kennedy said he really saw no "fuse sufficient to light off" former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, whom a reporter said had charged that Kennedy injected politics into the allocation of defense contracts.

Dairy Farmers — Kennedy urged the House to override its agriculture committee and maintain dairy price supports at their present level for the remainder of the year.

Cancer Vaccine Hunt Hopeful, Doctor Reports

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — A hopeful new search for a vaccine to protect humans against cancer has begun.

Today 120 persons between the ages of 60 and 70 in Sweden form the first test group, but if all goes well perhaps 12,000 persons may receive experimental vaccine before 1965.

So reported Dr. Bertil Bjorkland of the Immunological Research Laboratory in Stockholm to newsmen after the closing session of the American Cancer Society's science writers seminar.

The vaccin consists mainly of bits of killed cancer cells, actually human cells that have become abnormal.

In the healthy body these cell fragments will stimulate production of protective antibodies — the substances that tend to inactivate germs and viruses.

Then, should a human cell become abnormal — turning cancerous — Dr. Bjorklund expects the antibodies will recognize the cancerous cell, inactivating it.

Glenn Shrugs Off Tussle With Teen-Agers As A Minor Matter

WASHINGTON (AP) — Astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. has shrugged off as a minor matter his encounter with a gang of trouble-making teen-agers at an Arlington, Va., church.

Glenn told his pastor, The Rev. Frank Erwin, that it was a disgrace for young people to act that way. But he told police he won't file a formal complaint against the youths — one of whom tried to hit him —unless local authorities insist.

The affair came to light yesterday. A space agency spokesman reported Glenn, now back at Cape Canaveral, Fla., "said there was nothing to it, except that there was some boisterousness at the church and he happened to be there."

The Washington Evening Star reported police Sgt. Warren Siske's account of the incident.

The astronaut, who has a home in suburban Arlington, went to pick up his daughter, Lyn, 14, at a private home where she had been attending a party Saturday night, Siske said

Outside, he found a group of teen-age boys who apparently had failed in an attempt to crash the affair. One of the gang threw a beer can into the yard, and Glenn ordered him to pick it up. The boy protested but obeyed.

When the Marine lieutenant colonel emerged from the house, he heard some of the boys say they were going to a youth center at the Little Falls United Presbyterian Church, which the Glenns attend. He drove there, fearing the youths might cause trouble.

When Glenn arrived, The Rev. Mr. Erwin was in the church parking lot, ringed by six or eight teen-agers. The pastor said some of the boys had been drinking beer, and when he asked them to go, they cursed.

Glenn also told the boys to get going, but they refused. He said he would take the license number of their car and call police, and one boy stepped in front of the car to shield the license plate. As Glenn pushed him aside, the youth took a swing at him and missed. Glenn pinned the boy's arms against the car, got the license number and called police from the church.

When they arrived the youths fled.

The Rev. Mr. Erwin said the youths did not recognize Glenn, and "did not know I was a minister."

San Rafael High Presenting 'Carousel'

San Rafael High School will "go Broadway" tomorrow and Saturday nights with presentation of the student production of Rodgers and Hammerstein's musical "Carousel."

Curtain time will be 8:15 both nights in the school auditorium. The show is already a sellout.

This will be the second high school production of "Carousel" in Marin this year. Tamalpais High School staged it two weeks ago.

The San Rafael High production is by the school's music department with assists from the art, (scenery), homemaking, (costumes) and business education (tickets and financial arrangements) departments.

Director is Edward Day, art teacher who has directed all musical and variety shows at San Rafael High since such annual productions were started by the music department.

Terry Bradley plays Billy Bigelow, handsome and proud barker for a carousel. Judy White appears as Julie Jordan, his young and innocent wife.

Carrie, Julie's scatter-brained friend, is played by Holly Horan, with Gary Summers in the role of her husband, Mr. Snow. Soprano Janice Randolph has the role of Netty Fowler. Al Finley plays Jigger, Billy's criminal friend. Billy's daughter, Louise, who has a ballet solo role, is played by Leslie Boucher, who as a high school junior already has several years experience with the San Francisco Ballet Co.

Who appears as Billy's heavenly friend depends somewhat on the success of the San Rafael High basketball team in the "tournament of champions" opening this evening in Berkeley. Jack Haney, cast in the role, is on the basketball team. Ready to step in as understudy is Phil Soldavini.

The a cappella choir will be under direction of Byron Jones, and the high school orchestra under the baton of music director Hugo Rinaldi. Charles Maurice of the art department is in charge of stage effects. Leona Norman is choreographer.

Cows On Runway

STEPHENVILLE, Tex. (UPI)—Members of the city council's airport committee were not cowed by the airport problem at one meeting—they ordered policemen to round up the cattle grazing on the runway and arrange to have a nearby pasture fence repaired.

Ted Kennedy's Senate Bid Off To A Hot Start

BOSTON (AP) — The battle between the Kennedys and the McCormacks is off to a hot start in Massachusetts. Already the first charge of administration pressure has been made.

Less than 24 hours after the president's youngest brother, Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy, announced his candidacy for the U.S. Senate, his rival for the Democratic nomination, State Atty. Gen. Edward J. McCormack Jr. (nephew of House Speaker John W. McCormack) threw the first jab.

McCormack said he heard a report during a two-day swing through western Massachusetts that Pittsfield delegates to the June state convention were being pressured to vote for Kennedy or lose favor with the White House.

"I don't think Ted Kennedy knows about this. I think he is too much of a gentleman to carry out this sort of campaign," McCormack said.

There was no comment from the Kennedy camp.

The June convention endorses a party slate for the September primary but candidates who fail to win endorsement may run in the primary. Both Kennedy and McCormack have said they will go all the way to the primary.

President John F. Kennedy said at his news conference in Washington yesterday that he will not participate in the campaign except to go to Massachusetts to vote in the September primary.

Nova Scotia has 4,500 miles of coastline.

BUT JOHNSON YELLED

India's Taj Mahal Leaves Mrs. Kennedy Speechless

AGRA, India (UPI) — Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy spent 40 golden minutes today in the beauty of the white-marbled Taj Mahal in the soft late afternoon sun.

The dark-haired first lady, her bright green and turquoise dress a striking contrast against the sparkling walls, could not find words to express her emotions when she emerged.

It was still warm but afternoon shadows and the playing of scores of fountains along the waterway leading to the tomb cooled the atmosphere.

Mrs. Kennedy was quiet and pensive during her visit. Guides still remember the visit last year by Vice President Lyndon Johnson. Told of the echo quality of the acoustics under the central dome, Johnson let out a Texas-sized rebel yell.

Mrs. Kennedy posed for the traditional tourist photographs, outlined against the marble memorial—perhaps man's most beautiful tribute to woman.

The Mogul Emperor Shah Jehan ordered it built in 1630 as a tomb for his wife after she died giving birth to their 15th child. It took 22 years to complete the building with its 817-foot onion dome and vast interior.

Mrs. Kennedy and her party came here by special train from New Delhi.

She went first to the deserted Mogul capital of Fatehpur Sikri, built almost 400 years ago by Akbar the Great, father of the Shah Jehan.

Mrs. Kennedy spent nearly an hour walking through the walled city.

Then she stood in awe while five Indian divers, clad only in loin cloths, calmly jumped off 80-foot-high red ramparts of the fortress and landed with a noisy splash in a circular pool below.

From Fatehpur Sikri, Jackie returned to Agra and went almost immediately to the Taj Mahal.

As she came out, she was asked her impressions. She placed her gloved hand to her mouth and said, "Let me think." Then she walked away without saying anything more.

The government relaxed its restriction against alcoholic beverages and permitted cases of liquor aboard the train with Mrs. Kennedy.

The only previous occasion this was known to have happened was in 1955 when Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev traveled through the Indian countryside by special train.

Sausalito Planners Deny Apartment Building Permit

F. Bruce Bernhard was denied a permit to build a 422-unit apartment building at Rodeo Avenue near Highway 101 by unanimous vote of the Sausalito Planning Commission last night.

Chairman Paul Micou said the commission believes the existing zoning, which permits apartments and hotels, is inappropriate. The proposed zoning map, the general plan and the commission's zoning committee all ask for a zone with lower residential density.

Attorney William B. Wolfson, representing Bernhard, urged approval of the development. Bernhard, a planning commissioner, was reported en route to Sausalito from Hawaii by sailboat.

The commission also:

1. Announced a special meeting March 22 to discuss the Sausalito Properties project, including apartments, hotel, restaurant and commercial uses. Copies of a committee report on the project will be available for the public Monday at the city hall.

2. Approved a tentative subdivision map for Rob Rose's Toyon Terrace No. 2.

3. Approved a use permit for United Sand and Gravel Co. to have a sand storage dump on A. G. Schoonmaker Co. property in Marinship.

4. Announced April 28 meeting will be set aside to discuss the proposed zoning map and sign ordinance.

Hadden Roth Resigning As D.A.'s Deputy

Hadden W. Roth, 32, deputy district attorney for the past three years will resign March 31 and join the San Rafael firm of Bagshaw, Schaal, Martinelli, Weissich and Jordan.

"Hadden is a good lawyer and a good friend," Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety said today. "I wish him well in his new association." Garety is expected to name a new deputy district attorney within a few days.

Roth is a graduate of University of California and Hastings School of Law. He began practicing law in 1957, and served as deputy city attorney for San Rafael in 1958 under Albert E. Bagshaw.

Former Dist. Atty. William O. Weissich appointed Roth his deputy in January of 1959. He joined the legal firm to which Roth will now go when he resigned as district attorney in July, 1960.

has posted bond," since he could not officially take over as clerk until this was done, requiring about 24 hours.

Fusselman then moved and Castro seconded that Gnoss be made acting clerk after which, on posting bond, he would become clerk. This was immediately passed unanimously.

Behr introduced a final motion, seconded by Ludy and unanimously passed, extending "condolence and sympathy not only to Mr. Jones's relatives but also to his many dear friends in this county."

"I will do all within my power to justify your confidence," said Gnoss.

Asked today whether in handling the approaching June election he might change existing procedures to emplay data processing equipment, which County Auditor Leon deLisle had long urged, Gnoss replied:

"I have always thought along such lines. I'm convinced that such action is bound to come. Anything that I can do to speed up the work, I mean to do."

Novato Adopts Health Plan

The City of Novato has become the first city in Marin County to adopt the Kaiser Health Plan for its employees.

The council voted to pay $5 per month per employee toward the plan starting April 1. The balance of the cost, which varies with each employee's family, will be paid by the employee.

The action followed three polls taken of the city employees in which 14 voted in favor of the Kaiser plan, four for the California Physicians Service, and one for a private insurance plan.

9 Hurt In 2 Marin Traffic Accidents

Nine persons were injured in two Marin traffic accidents yesterday.

Five airmen were hurt, three of them hospitalized, when a Marin Sanitary Service truck hit a small foreign car on Aberdeen Road at Hamilton Air Force Base.

The garbage truck, driven by John L. Rover of House 444, Marin City, was going north on Aberdeen. It made a left turn at Skeet Range Road, hitting a Fiat driven by A/1c William Gonzales, 31, of the 78th Armament and Electronic Squadron, Hamilton officials reported.

Gonzales suffered cuts on face and head. His four passengers were all injured.

Most seriously hurt was A/2c Lindley R. Hopes, 32, who suffered multiple rib fractures and internal injuries. A/2c Allen F. Foster, 19, suffered multiple head and face cuts and bruises; A/1c Abel G. Canacho, 24, neck injury, fractured clavicle and face cuts; A/2c Earl L. Isaacson, 19, bruises on right arm and head.

Hopes was transferred to Letterman Army Hospital in San Francisco, where he was reported in satisfactory condition today. Foster and Canacho were reported satisfactory at Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital, where all were treated. Gonzales and Isaacson were released after treatment.

Three army privates and a Fairfax girl suffered cuts and bruises when a car driven by Pfc. Walter E. Banks, 19, of Leadwood, Mo., rammed into a bank on White's Hill last night.

Banks was driving east on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at 9:30 p.m. He attributed the mishap to defective steering mechanism.

The injured, all treated at Marin General Hospital were:

Patricia Price, 18, of 31 Arroyo Road, Fairfax, numerous cuts and bruises of hands and elbows; Banks, cut forehead and other minor cuts and bruises; David J. Boffa, 18, of Philadelphia, Pa., multiple cuts and bruises of the head; Johnny L. Lancaster, 21, of Gainesville, Ga., concussion and multiple cuts and bruises.

The youths were all privates first class of Headquarters Battery, 40th Artillery Brigade, at the Presidio of San Francisco. They were transferred to Letterman Army Hospital, San Francisco, but returned to duty today.

Ranchers Disappointed Over Seashore Hearing

Preliminary consideration of the Point Reyes National Seashore bill by the House Interior and Insular Affairs Committee in Washington yesterday was interrupted by call for a floor vote just before proposals of ranchers of the area could be heard, attorney Bryan McCarthy said today.

So the ideas of the ranchers are scheduled to be heard at 10 a.m. next Wednesday when the committee resumes its deliberations.

McCarthy flew to Washington for yesterday's session but was disappointed by the sudden adjournment just as the committee was about to take up Section 4 of the bill, to which the ranchers particularly objected.

The committee did, however, adopt an amendment declaring the intent of Congress to purchase the dairy properties at the earliest possible date.

Another action rejected an amendment which would have excluded 16 acres on Duck Cove, containing seven homes. Attorney John S. Ward, representing a non-profit corporation formed by the group, said he understands Rep. Clem Miller (D-Corte Madera) is trying for a compromise with the National Park Service.

City Hall Site Given Backing

The civic affairs committee of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce yesterday backed location of a new city hall next to the city library between Fifth and Mission avenues.

The committee recommendation, which will be voted on by the chamber board of directors next Tuesday noon, backs the proposal of Edward G. Welsh of Ebasco Services, who spent two months on a survey to determine city hall needs.

The committee recommendation does not constitute official endorsement by the chamber, said manager George Krusz.

OBITUARIES

Lillian R. DeMaestri Succumbs

Mrs. Lillian R. DeMaestri, mother of retired New York Yankee baseball player Joseph DeMaestri, died, apparently of a heart attack, while en route to a local hospital this morning.

Mrs. DeMaestri, 54, suffered the seizure about 1 a.m. at her home at 50 Fairway Drive, Novato. Her husband, Silvio DeMaestri, summoned an ambulance which took her to San Rafael General Hospital, where she was pronounced dead on arrival. An autopsy will be performed.

A native of Oakland, she had been a resident of Marin County for over 30 years, making her home for the past year at the Novato address.

She is survived by her husband, a San Rafael beer distributor; her son, at the Novato home; her father, Joseph DaCastello of San Francisco; a sister and two brothers, Mrs. Eleanor Thomas and Ray DaCastello, of San Francisco and Paul DaCastello of San Anselmo, and three grandchildren.

A Requiem Mass will be celebrated at 10:30 a.m. Saturday at St. Raphael's Church, San Rafael. The funeral cortegt will leave Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael at 10:15 a.m. Burial will be at Mt. Olivet Cemetery, San Rafael. The Rosary will be recited at 8:15 p.m. tomorrow at the Keaton chapel.

HARRY STRATFORD

Private funeral services for Harry J. Stratford, president of Neal, Stratford and Kerr Printers of San Francisco and former San Anselmo resident for 55 years, were held today in San Francisco.

Stratford died Tuesday in a local hospital after a short illness. He was 88.

He came to San Anselmo from his native San Francisco after the family home was destroyed in the 1906 earthquake and fire. Until he returned to San Francisco five years ago, he made his home at 205 Crescent Road. Fifty years ago, he helped found the Neal, Stratford and Kerr Printing firm.

He is survived by a son, Gerald D. Stratford of San Francisco; two grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

BEATRICE SHEA

Beatrice A. Shea, 90, a resident of 109 Brookwood Lane in Ross for over half a century, died at her home yesterday after a long illness.

Mrs. Shea, widow of Frank Shea, architect who died in 1929, is survived by a son, Raymond Shea of Sacramento, an employee of the State Department of Finance.

A native of San Francisco, Mrs. Shea came to Marin in 1907. She had lived in the same home since that time.

The funeral procession will form at 9 a.m. Saturday at Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael, and will proceed to St. Anselm's Church in San Anselmo where a High Requiem Mass will be celebrated at 9:30 a.m. Interment will be private at Holy Cross Cemetery in Colma.

The Rosary will be recited tomorrow at 8 p.m. at Keaton's Chapel.

MRS. GLEICHMAN

Double tragedy struck the home of the Joseph Nathanson's of 1135 Grand Avenue, San Rafael, yesterday.

Nathanson's mother, Mrs. Lucy Gleichman of Berkeley, died in a Berkeley rest home after a long illness. County Clerk George S. Jones, Mrs. Nathanson's father, collapsed and died yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Gleichmann, 86, had left her native Russia 50 years ago for San Francisco, where she resided until her illness.

She is survived by her son; two daughters, Mrs. Raymond Blum of Berkeley and Mrs. Benjamin Davis of San Francisco, several grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Funeral services for Mrs. Gleichmann will be held at 11:30 a.m. tomorrow at Sinai Memorial Chapel, San Francisco. Burial will be in Salem Memorial Park, Colma. The family prefers contributions to Religious School Congregation Beth El, Berkeley.

5,000 Miles Of Scenic Routes Proposed

'To Preserve Beauty' Of California

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Designation of 5,000 miles of California highways as scenic routes was proposed by Gov. Edmund G. Brown today "to preserve for future generations . . . the beauty of our Golden State."

Including such routes as the coast highway, the Mt. Lassen Loop and the famed Tioga Road through the high country of Yosemite National Park, the system would consist mostly of existing state and federal highways.

The report of two committees calls for preservation of "scenic corridors" which include what the motorists sees as well as the roadway.

The Advisory Committee on Scenic Highways urged legislative action to acquire needed land and easements and for more roadside rests, parks and viewpoints.

The proposed scenic routes cover most of the state and traverse coastal, forest, mountain and desert areas.

Sen. Fred S. Farr (D-Carmel) author of a resolution creating the study committee, said he would submit the proposal to the 1963 legislature.

"This is a most important report," he said. "I am asking the Senate to study it carefully."

In the meantime, the governor urged the advisory committee and an interdepartmental committee of state officials to develop specific proposals for the 1963 legislature.

He said the committees had "established a sound base for future legislative action to set up a scenic highway system in California."

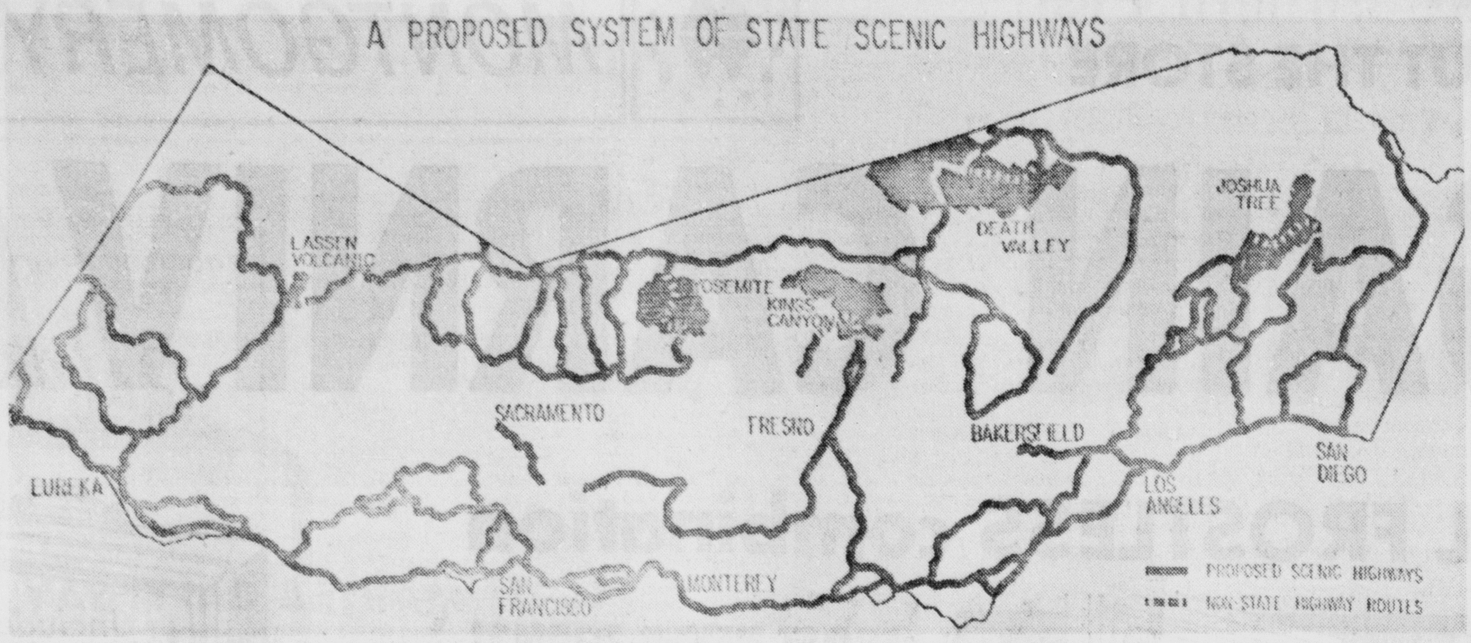
"We need particularly to study the problems of city and county participation in the plans to include local routes of interest and beauty where feasible," he said.

Among the committee's 19 recommendations were:

A review of present laws on billboards along scenic routes.

Increased attention to roadside parks and other public facilities for use on the scenic highway system.

Legislation to clear the way for increased land acquisition.



PROPOSED SCENIC ROUTES—This is a map of the 5,000 miles of California highways which Gov. Edmund G. Brown proposed to designate "scenic highways." Most of the 5,000 miles of roadway already exist. (AP Wirephoto)

About 400 locomotives are ordered each year by American railroad companies. All are diesels and turbine-electric units.

No Session On Freeways Planned

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown indicated yesterday that he does not intend to call a special legislative session on the state's freeway routing policies.

The governor told his news conference, however, that he is interested in a proposal that only the State Division of Beaches and Parks be given authority to condemn park land for highways.

"If anyone will give me a specific program better than the one we have instead of making speeches I'll be happy to consider it," Brown said.

Governor Tells Mental Health Master Plan

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A long range master plan aimed at eventual elimination of most mental hospitals was sent to the legislature today by Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

The plan, prepared by the Mental Hygiene Department with the aid of 150 citizen advisers, "may well prove to be the major development on the mental health scene in many years," Brown told the Second Annual Mental Health Awards Banquet last night.

He said it foresees a time when mental ills will be treated by private physicians, in their regular practice, and in local hospitals.

"For the next several years, the state would continue to improve its existing treatment and rehabilitation services. But it would work to meet present needs and handle increasing admissions without the need for costly new construction," Brown said.

The governor said he will reserve specific recommendations on the plan.

Sit-Tight Policy Prevails On Reapportionment Plan

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A sit-tight policy prevails in the Senate today on a controversial plan to give Los Angeles County three more senators.

Majority Leader Hugh M. Burns (D-Fresno) said the Senate will wait and see what happens to the reapportionment measure in the Assembly.

"We're going to sit tight until then," he said.

The Assembly, strongly urban, is expected to approve the plan recommended by a special commission and Gov. Edmund G. Brown. But the votes are sparse in the Senate where rural counties are in command.

Burns presided yesterday over an extraordinary one and one-half hour closed caucus of the Senate on the touchy issue. No votes were taken, he said.

Majority Northern senators came out of the meeting just as dead set against the Senate revision as ever. Some, however, said privately that they feared defeat of the plan would lead to a more drastic initiative measure.

"We should preserve the federal system so the big city boys can't control the entire state government," said Sen. Alan Short (D-Stockton).

Both houses were elected on a population basis from 1849 to 1930. The Assembly now is reapportioned every 10 years after each census but the senators are assigned primarily by counties. No county has more than one senator, and no senator represents more than three counties.

Sen. John A. Murdy, Jr. (R-Santa Ana) a member of the governor's study commission on Senate reapportionment, said he intends to vote for three more Los Angeles members.

"There's no question, Los Angeles is entitled to more representation in view of its population," he said.

"I know the Los Angeles supervisors and others down there feel they should get more than three additional senators, but I don't think there is much chance for it."

California voters in 1960 turned down an initiative measure that would have given Los Angeles a total of seven senators. The present plan provides for a second senator for other counties when they reach 1.5 million population.

Building Permit Taken Out On Apartments

Building permit for a $150,000, 20-unit apartment house was taken out yesterday by George F. Kerrigan at Novato City Hall.

Kerrigan, who lives at 170 Seaview Avenue, San Rafael, will build the apartments on three lots on the southeast corner of the Third Street-Vallejo Avenue intersection.

Nixon Shakes Hands—Double Line

Richard M. Nixon stood for more than two hours last evening shaking hands and greeting Marinites as they filed by him in a double line.

The reception in Dominic's Harbor Restaurant, San Rafael, wound up an eight-hour Marin visit by the candidate for Republican nomination for governor, in which he addressed a luncheon of 600, walked Fourth Street and talked with people on the sidewalks and in the stores, and spoke again at the evening reception.

The former vice president told both the luncheon and the reception crowds the Republicans will win in November "if we find that unifying principle which will bring us together."

This principle, he said, is the difference between the two parties: "The Democrats have one simple answer to all problems, 'We can take care of it in Washington.' We Republicans start with solving our problems with the individuals and private enterprise, then we turn first to city government, then county government, then state government. Only when it can't be solved on these levels do we turn to Washington.

"But we can't sit here in California and not be aware of what goes on in Washington," he continued. "For example, health insurance. I oppose national compulsory health insurance because I realize that when we have it for everyone over 65, soon we have it for us all and this will result in a reduction in the quality of the treatment we will receive. America has the best medical care in the world because we have private medical care."

Gov. Edmund G. Brown has said his administration "can't do any better" in cutting the cost of government, Nixon declared.

"We need a new administration in there that can cut it and that is concerned about the high taxes and lack of jobs as new industry hesitates to come into our state." He said that later in the campaign he will have "specific recommendations" as to how the budget can be cut.

Regarding the fight against communism, Nixon said "some people think they should join a non-political organization devoted exclusively to that purpose. Perhaps they can do some good in this way. But the most effective thing you can do is to work in politics and get candidates eletced who think as you do, whether you be Republican or Democrat. This strengthens our form of government in the best way for you to battle communism. . . .

"The other thing we must do is to not always turn to government for a solution to our problems. The force that challenges us does everything the government way. Our answer must not be to send more power to Washington but put more power in the 180 million people."

This is a basic Jeffersonian principle, Nixon concluded, and one which the Republicans support and will attract the support of Democratic voters.

Nixon was introduced at the reception and on his walk through San Rafael by Assemblyman William T. Bagley of San Rafael and Edwin A. Grundstrom of Novato, co-chairman of the Nixon campaign in Marin County.

AFTER LUNCHEON of the California Federation of Republican Women, Richard M. Nixon shook hands in Dominic's patio with the convention delegates. Mrs. Jo Ann Lambeth (left) of Kelsey snapped Nixon shaking hands with Mrs. Ruby Iverson of Alameda with his arm around Mrs. Archie Porter of Garden Valley.

INTERRUPTING A SOFT DRINK in a San Rafael Creamery, Richard M. Nixon greeted Martha George, who told him she is a Democrat. (Independent-Journal photos)

Marin People For Peace Told Of U.N. Fete

A wide variety of groups will sponsor an Easter-Week United Nations Festival in San Francisco April 27, 28 and 29, Phillip Drath of San Rafael told the People for Peace at a meeting in Terra Linda last night.

Draft, chairman of the Marin Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy, told the meeting that sponsors will include the Northern-California Council of Churches, San Francisco Junior Chamber of Commerce and San Francisco Labor Council.

Francis Simcich of Terra Linda, chairman of the library committee, said 70 packets of literature on civil defense and disarmament had been sent to county leaders.

Others interested may obtain packets by writing People for Peace at Post Office Box 242, San Rafael, she said. The next meeting of the group will be at 8 p.m. March 28 at the home of Mrs. Judy DeLone, 105 Las Pavadas, Terra Linda.

Fairfax School Board Meets On Handbook

The Fairfax School District board at an adjourned meeting last night discussed suggestions for revising its policy handbook but made no decisions.

At its next regular meeting at 7:45 p.m. Tuesday the board will set date for further discussion of the policy handbook and suggestions for revising the administration handbook. The meeting will be in the multipurpose room of Manor School, said Mrs. Fay Jensen, president.

Dixie Schools To Seek Aid From U.S. On Lack Of Funds

Dixie School District trustees last night voted to seek congressional help to make up expected loss to the district of $6,000 in federal funds fiscal year.

Supt. Dennie B. Willis said the district finds itself in the position of having less income per pupil in 1962-63 than has been available this year.

Willis said the appropriation to cover payments for pupils whose parents work on federal property is deficient because there are more such children than was expected when the appropriation was voted. Result will be a cut in the per capita contribution.

The board directed Willis to ask Rep. Clem Miller and Sens. Clair Engle and Thomas H. Kuchel to initiate a deficiency appropriation bill.

Because Dixie attendance during next year is expected to top 2,500, it will no longer be mandatory to purchase school supplies from the standard bid list of the county superintendent. In hope of savings, the board authorized purchases through quotations and bids direct from vendors.

The board tentatively approved a summer school program. Vallecito School will be used, so sixth and seventh grade pupils to take advantage of home and industrial arts and arts and crafts facilities there. Between 900 and 1,000 enrollment is expected.

Allocation board approval was received for a $161,922.80 contract with Fostmeier Construction Co. of Petaluma for addition to Don Timoteo School.

Willis was told to inform teachers there will be no summer workshop this year.

He was directed to arrange with the architectural firm of Reid, Rockwell, Banwell and Tarics of San Francisco to start immediate planning for a new administrative unit on the district's Miller Creek site. The superintendent also was asked to recommend a use for the present administration headquarters.

Resignation of Mrs. Betty Taylor, second grade teacher at Don Timeteo School, was received effective June 30 because of removal of her family from the county.

Stabbing Suspect Pleads Not Guilty

Manuel E. Guiterrez, 22-year-old San Franciscan charged with stabbing Michael (Tuffy) Hallinan on March 4, yesterday pleaded not guilty in San Francisco Municipal Court to a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

Preliminary hearing was set for April 4.

Guiterrez and a 17-year-old companion allegedly attacked and stabbed Hallinan, 23, son of Belvedere attorney Vincent Hallinan, when they became incensed at his slow driving. The fight was broken up by a San Francisco grandmother, Mrs. Ruth Franks, who used her handbag to rout the pair.

home at 51 Valencia Street, San Rafael. They were married in Auburn on Jan. 13, 1953. Jones' first wife, Margret Stack Jones, died about 10 years ago.

Jones' daughter, Mrs. Agnes Nathanson, was his chief deputy in the county clerk's office. One son, George Paul Jones, is manager of the Marin County Mosquito Abatement District. Another son, Walter, works at the Benicia Arsenal.

Jones is also survived by a brother, Gordon B. Jones of San Rafael; five grandchildren, and three great-grandchildren.

Jones was born in Sausalito on July 12, 1886.

His father, Gordon Jones, operated a nursery in Sausalito near the present Alta Mira Hotel site.

At the age of 20 or 21, Jones started a real estate office in San Francisco. Real estate and insurance have been his avocation ever since.

After the 1906 earthquake, Jones, as a deputy sheriff, helped find temporary shelters for evacuees from San Francisco.

Until 1925, Jones ran a "one-man town" in Ignacio, serving as postmaster, and operator of a general store, garage and service station, barber shop, butcher shop, and telephone exchange. He also grew sugar beets on what is now Hamilton Air Force Base.

In 1925, Jones sold out most of his holdings in Ignacio. On Jan. 1, 1926, he joined the county courthouse staff as deputy under County Clerk Robert Graham. In 1933, he ran for the county clerk's job, defeating Virginia Rice. He continued in office ever since for seven terms.

GEORGE S. JONES
Death comes unexpectedly

A political power in the county for more than 40 years, Jones belonged to the Pirates Club, a social group that was active politically from the 1920s to the 1940s. He was a close friend of the late Judge Edward I. Butler, whom he called "my legal adviser."

Jones was a close personal friend of Supervisor William D. Fusselman. He backed the former Supervisor J. Walter Blair. Jones voiced criticism of the county civic center designed by Frank Lloyd Wright. Because of his close ties with some of the supervisors, opponents sometimes referred to the county clerk as "the sixth supervisor."

His forthright stand on major issues made friends as well as foes. But even his political opponents agree that Jones ran an efficient and punctual county clerk's office.

Active and alert, Jones had intended to continue his real estate and insurance office in the San Rafael Masonic Building after his retirement from county service at the end of this year. For many years he was associated with Matt A. Graham and Associates of San Rafael.

He was a past exalted ruler of the San Rafael Elks Lodge, and a member of Mount Tamalpias Parlor of Native Sons of the Golden West, San Rafael Chamber of Commerce, Marin Industrial Development Foundation, Commonwealth Club of California, Marin Rod and Gun Club, California County Clerks Assn., Jury Commissioners Assn. of California, and Society for the Preservation of Railroad Passenger Business.

The funeral cortege will form at Keaton's in San Rafael at 9:15 a.m. Saturday and proceed to St. Raphael's Church for Requiem High Mass. Private burial will follow at Holy Cross Cemetery in Colma. Recitation of the Rosary is set for 8 p.m. tomorrow at Keaton's.

Counsel Rules On Smith Rescinding Resignation

Supt. J. J. Smith's rescinding of his Dec. 19 resignation as superintendent of Novato schools has not changed the legal status of his relations with the Novato Unified School District board.

This opinion was expressed by E. Warren McGuire, county counsel, in a letter received yesterday by Earl Marshall, chairman of the Novato Unified School District board.

Smith gave the board his resignation on Dec. 19, after a long closed session with the board. On March 6, he gave the board a letter rescinding that resignation.

McGuire's letter to Marshall gave the board three alternatives:

1. It could change its policy toward Smith and rescind its former acceptance of his resignation. This would mean that it would automatically renew his contract.

2. Maintain the present situation between Smith and the board. This would mean that it would continue its search for a new superintendent.

3. Reject Smith's March 6 rescinding of his own resignation. This would notify Smith that the board considered his resignation as final so that if Smith wanted to file for a legal litigation he could, McGuire said.

Drunken Driver Loses License

Mrs. Muriel Dorothy Flynn, 48, of San Francisco loses her driver's license for 90 days and must pay $276 fine for drunken driving.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Municipal Court sentenced her yesterday. She was arrested in San Rafael last Sunday after her car struck a parked vehicle on Fourth Street. She pleaded guilty to drunken driving and hit-run driving.

Civic Affairs Unit Chairman Elected

Harold Stockstad, 204 Cardinal Road, Mill Valley, a civil engineer, was elected 1962 chairman of the Marin Council for Civic Affairs Tuesday night.

He replaces Morris Finisy of Fairfax. Other officers of the council's board of directors are Nathaniel B. Guyol of San Rafael, vice-chairman; Alan M. Swabacker of Novato, secretary, and Milen C. Dempster of Mill Valley, treasurer.

The council elected 28 directors from five districts.

Marinwood Man Injured In Fall

Joseph G. Coakley of 144 Blackstone Drive, Marinwood, suffered a hip fracture in a fall at Rickey's Rancho Rafael in Ignacio yesterday.

Coakley, retired, told Sheriff's Sgt. Edward Levine and Deputy Joseph Kelly he had been drinking at the bar, and stumbled near the night manager's desk about 1:30 a.m. United Ambulance took the victim to Novato Hospital. He was to be transferred to Mount Zion Hospital in San Francisco.

Bids Opened As Mill Valley Yacht Harbor Moves Closer To Reality

Mill Valley's long-awaited yacht harbor moved a step closer to reality yesterday with opening of bids for dredging the basin.

Two bids were received. Low bid was from Shellmaker, Inc. of San Francisco at 31.5 cents per cubic yard. Second bid was that of Associated Dredging Co. of Sausalito at 39.8 cents.

Bids will be discussed by the city council Wednesday but awarding the contract may be held up as a title search on a piece of harbor land given to the city by the state has not been completed. This must be cleared before any of the $300,000 state loan money is released.

Ground-breaking ceremonies have been set for April 7, announced City Manager A. E. Almcrants.

City Engineer Stanley M. Bala reported dredging of 213,000 cubic yards from the basin will cost $67,095, the amount to come from the state loan. Engineer's estimate was $64,350.

Also in the contract will be dredging on an extension of Arroyo Corte Madera del Presidio Creek. This will cost $12,600 for removal of 40,000 cubic yards. Money is to come from the city's flood control fund.

The extension runs from the railroad tracks across the basin to the entrance of the harbor at Saucelito Canal. It is to be 700 feet long, 200 feet wide at top and 60 feet wide at bottom.

The extension, Bala said, is the first stage of construction in the city's proposed flood control project on the creek and has been approved by the corps of engineers.

The basin is to berth 128 boats in the first stage and 128 in its second stage. It is 1,400 by 500 feet.

Mud from dredging will go to the side on harbor property to create dry land, Bala said. Some will be used to fill the school playground at the proposed enchanted Knolls School.

Ill Wind Keeps Marin City From Burning

Burning of 27 old wooden duplexes at Marin City will not be done this week, Capt. Frank Machado of the Marin County Fire department has reported.

Machado said there will be no burning at least until next Monday. Approval to burn must be given by the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District. This week, the wind has been blowing the wrong way.

Greenbrae Plans Candidate Night

The Greenbrae Property Owners Assn. has announced plans for a candidates night for those seeking Larkspur City Council and county offices.

The program will be during the first week of April at the new Greenbrae Firehouse on South Eliseo Drive. Further details will be announced later said Mrs. Forest Willat, secretary.

The association appointed Ray E. Poelstra, Mrs. Felix Kulka and Mrs. Thomas Kirkbride to a committee to study plans for the Corte Los Sombras playground.

Pacific Freight Withdraws Plan For Trunk Line

Pacific Southcoast Freight Bureau has withdrawn its application for California Public Utilities Commission permission to replace Northwestern Pacific rail service to San Rafael from the north with trucks.

The PUC announced today it has dismissed the petition on request of the applicant. It had previously canceled a hearing set for Feb. 28, also at the applicant's request.

Pacific Southcoast Freight Bureau is, like NWP, a wholly owned subsidiary of Southern Pacific Co.

The proposal would have replaced NWP rail service with trucks to Ignacio, terminus of the line from the north since collapse of the Puerto Suello tunnel in San Rafael last July 20.

Hearing will be resumed before an Interstate Commerce Commission examiner in San Francisco next Thursday on NWP's petition to abandon 2.46 miles of its main line running north from San Rafael, including the collapsed tunnel.

The railroad has appealed a recent turndown by the ICC of its application to abandon San Rafael-Sausalito service.

Fisherman Turns Up After Hours Of Search

Water and air rescue units at Hamilton Air Force Base last night spent several hours searching for a lost fisherman who showed up later unharmed.

M/Sgt. Steven Hagen left Joe's Landing at Santa Venetia yesterday noon for a fishing trip. When he did not return by dusk, Joe Nerviani, owner of the landing, telephoned the sheriff at 6:40 p.m.

The sheriff notified the Air Force Police at Hamilton and a search was organized.

A swamp boat manned by S/Sgt. Richard A. Holton and A/1c James Campbell was sent out about 7 p.m.

A helicopter crew of Maj. Thomas L. Crull, Capt. Troy L. Allen and S/Sgt. James N. Potter, of Western Air Rescue flew over the area about 9 p.m. when the swamp boat could not locate Hagen.

At 10:55 p.m., Hagen showed up at the boat landing to get his car and trailer.

Hagen said he was fishing off the mouth of Sonoma Creek and had motor trouble about 5 p.m. He had drifted into Vallejo, and took a taxi back to the boat landing.

Mrs. Alpers Named To Crime Council

Mrs. Adele J. Alpers of 139 Bayview Drive, San Rafael, has been named as a northern committee member of the newly formed California Council on Crime and Delinquency, it has been announced.

Joseph R. Rowan, western director of the Citizen Action Program of the National Council on Crime and Delinquency, described Mrs. Alpers as one of 45 "recognized civic leaders from throughout California" who are to take part in a crash program against America's most costly problem next to national defense.

William W. Davison of San Francisco, as chairman pro tem of the northern committee, is to call a first meeting late in April or early in May.

Business Partners —But Not Related

A statement in yesterday's Red Tag section of the Independent-Journal that Tage Kristensen, co-owner of the new Copenhagen, House of Danish Furniture at 509 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael, is the father of Jens Rytter, the store's manager, is incorrect.

The two, partners in the business, are in no way related. The information was given to the I-J in error.

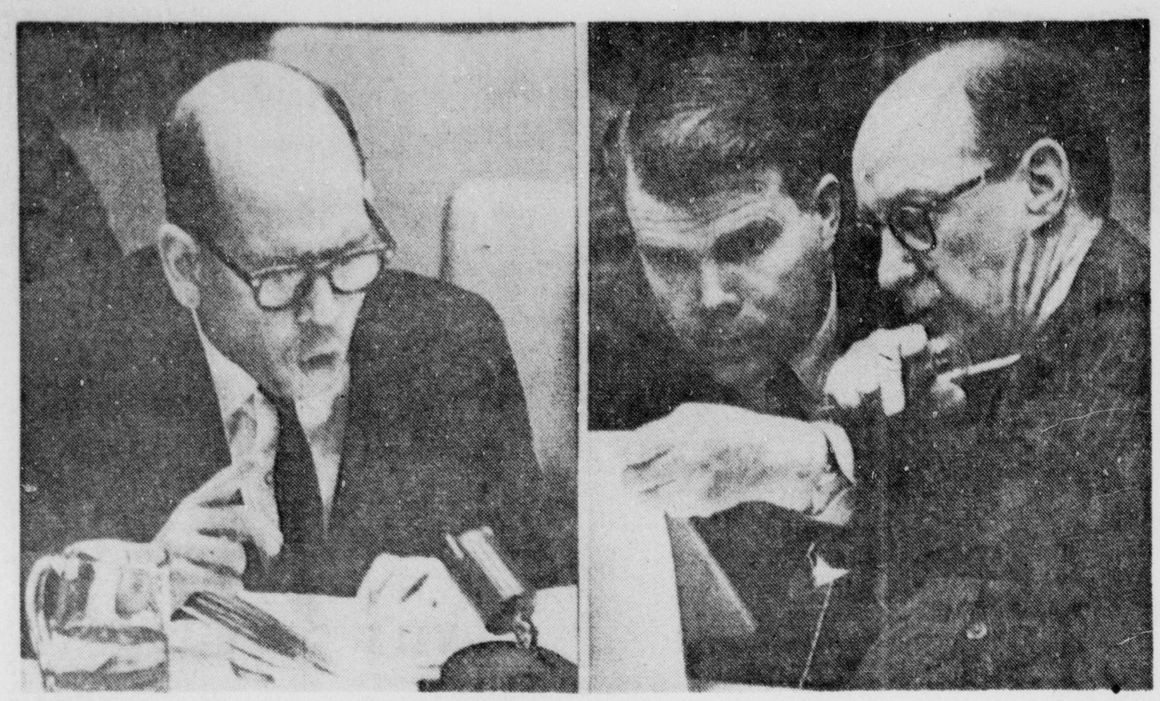
Cuba Fighting OAS Ouster At U.N.



IN DIFFERENT CORNERS—Cuba's Mario Garcia-Inchaustegui (left) addressed the United Nations Security Council yesterday to complain of the Havana regime's expulsion from the Organization of American States. At the same session Adlai Stevenson talked with an aide. (AP Wirephoto)

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) —U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson marshaled a defense today against a Cuban maneuver that could introduce the Soviet veto into the American system.

Stevenson was to speak after Russia's Platon D. Morozov at 3 p.m.

Cuba debate yesterday requested the 11-nation Security Council seek an international court advisory opinion on the legality of Cuba's expulsion by the Organization of American States (OAS).

OAS members voted six weeks ago in Punta del Este, Uruguay, to exclude Premier Fidel Castro's Cuban regime.

Cuban Ambassador Mario Garcia-Inchaustegui argued action was contrary to both the OAS and United Nations charters.

Garcia accused the U.S. of promoting illegal actions at Punta del Este. He reiterated Cuban charges that the U.S. was planning aggression against Cuba.

After the council meeting, Stevenson said "I think that what we are really facing is . . . a political effort to extend the Soviet veto over the Organization of American States through the Security Council."

A key point in Cuba's argument is that under the U.N. charter a regional organization such as the OAS is prohibited from taking "enforcement action" against a member without Security Council authorization. If the question of the legality of such action were put to the council, it would be subject to a Soviet veto.

Tomales High Student Wins Speech Contest

Brenton Swift of Inverness, a Tomales High School student, is the zone 1 winner of the Marin County Lions Club annual speakers contest and will be eligible to complete with the zone 2 winner in the county final contest.

Runners-up in the contest were Frank Morse, San Rafael High School student of 20 Maplewood Drive, San Rafael; JoAnn Coursey, Novato High student of 1554 Novato Boulevard, Novato, and Julie Drummond, Terra Linda High student of 563 Tamarack Terrace, Terra Linda.

"My Responsibility in a Changing World" was the subject of all contestants' speeches. The zone 1 competition was held Tuesday night in Nave Lanes, Ignacio.

Date and place of the county contest will be announced later, said Charles Denman, contest chairman.

Interest In Foreign Languages Growing Among Marin Students

Foreign languages are arousing more interest among California high school students, and Marin County students are especially eager to know a language besides English.

A State Department of Education survey indicated 204 per cent increase in foreign language enrollments since 1951 while total high school enrollment climbed only 118 per cent.

According to the survey, 40 per cent of the state's high school students took one or more foreign languages last year, compared to 29 per cent in 1951.

In some Marin districts, from 50 to 60 per cent of the students are learning another language.

"Interest in foreign languages has always been high in the Tamalpais district," Robert Torrey, director of instruction, said. He estimated about 50 per cent of the students at the district's three high schools have been taking foreign languages for the past 10 years.

At the two-year-old Terra Linda High School, 57 per cent of the students take a foreign language. San Rafael High School estimates nearly 50 per cent enrolled in another language, and Novato High School reports 35 per cent.

Marin students may choose from Spanish, French, German, Latin and Russian. Spanish is the most popular, with French a close second.

"Contrary to what many people think, Latin is becoming very popular here," Abe Milstein, county schools curriculum consultant, says. "It has not died."

By 1965, as required by state law, languages will be taught in all sixth grades, but at least two Marin schools are taking the lead in that field.

Ross School has required Spanish or French from the fourth through eighth grades for two years, and Reed School District in Tiburon will hire a full-time foreign language teacher next fall.

Mill Valley Names Finance Director

Thomas T. Behnke, a Santa Rosa accountant, has been named to take over duties of Mill Valley finance director May 1, City Manager A. E. Almcrants announced.

He will succeed Earl Yancey, who has resigned effective April 1 to become assistant administrative officer at Baldwin Park in Southern California.

Behnke took second place in competitive examinations given last year for the Mill Valley post. He is to receive a salary of $634 a month. He is 31, married and has two children.

Guitarist From Japan To Be In Two Concerts

Classical guitarist Jiro Matsuda of Tokjo, Japan, one of the top winners of the international guitar competition in Spain last year, will be heard in Marin concerts on April 10 and April 13.

On April 10 he will be presented by the Dominican College Music Department at 8 p.m. in Angelico Hall. On April 13 his 8:30 concert will be sponsored by the Homestead Valley Improvement Club in Brown's Hall, Mill Valley.

Matsuda is appearing in Marin through his acquaintance with Mrs. Philip Heyman of Homestead Valley, who teaches classical guitar at Dominican. Both studied last summer in Italy under Segovia.

Tickets for the Dominican concert will be available at the door. Brown's Hall tickets may be obtained from Mrs. Kurt Schlesinger, Homestead Valley Improvement Club president.

Group In Fairfax Is Demanding Parking Ordinance Be Rescinded

A petition will be circulated in Fairfax demanding that a new ordinance prohibiting parking on city streets between 4 and 6 a.m. be rescinded or put to popular vote, the Independent-Journal learned today.

The ordinance was introduced at the city council meeting of Sept. 11, 1961. It was adopted one month later.

Russell Brayall of 201 Cascade Drive said, petitions will be circulated early next week demanding the council rescind their action and allow residents of the city to vote on the issue.

An informal committee "of over 60 persons" has agreed to the petition and will spearhead a drive to do away with the ordinance, Brayall said.

During last Tuesday's council meeting, Brayall suggested that the ordinance be placed on the ballot, but no action was taken. He said notices of the meeting at which the ordinance was adopted were posted in the fire house, city hall and post office, locations unlikely to be visited by the majority of residents.

Brayall said the law would force most residents to build garages. "One of my neighbors recently got an estimate of $2,000. Where are people going to get that kind of money?" he asked.

"We don't think the majority of the people in Fairfax are in favor of this law," Brayall said. "We want to see it put to a vote."

He said an attorney was drawing up the petitions and they would be circulated as soon as completed, probably by next Monday.

New Dentist Office Opens At Fair-Anselm

Dr. Walter Gordon Swett, Lagunitas Road, Ross, has announced opening of dental offices on the mezzanine floor of the Fair-Anselm Shopping Center, Fairfax. He is the first professional man to locate in the center.

Dr. Swett, who has maintained his dental practice at 240 Stockton Street, San Francisco, for the past 16 years said the building was recently closed to professional men, which motivated re-establishing offices in Marin County. He had an office in the Albert Building, San Rafael, from 1938 to 1943.

The United Nations complex in New York City occupies six blocks of Manhattan which once were cluttered with breweries, slaughter houses and tenements.

Prize-Winning Art At Fairfax Theater

Six paintings by Erwin Manheim of Bolinas, including the prize winning "Portrait of Christopher," are on exhibit in the lobby of the Fairfax Theater, to remain through March 31.

"Portrait of Christopher," a painting of Manheim's grandson, won first award from the judges plus the popularity award at the Jack London Outdoor Art Festival last July.

The largest land animal in modern records is mounted in the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D.C. The huge bull elephant, which stood more than 13 feet tall, was shot in Angola in 1955 by a Madrid industrialist.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

(A Thrice-Weekly Column)

By HARRY CRAFT

Hub Merchant Renting Everything Housejacks To A Crib For Baby

Two distinct business trends —equipment rentals and franchising—are being reflected in a change of operation by one San Anselmo merchant — James McLaughlin of Ross Valley Hardware.

Last year the nation's rental industry chalked up gross revenue of more than one-half billion dollars. This year a 15-per cent increase is expected, arising from a growing consumer acceptance of the practical convenience of renting as opposed to owning.

Franchising, too, is becoming popular with many small merchants because it furnishes them with big-company buying power.

McLaughlin's observance of these two facts is taking substance in a line of franchised rental equipment which he says "covers everything from housejacks to baby cribs." So heavily is he becoming involved in it that he is liquidating a good part of his hardware stocks to make room for about $15,000 of equipment.

More specifically, McLaughlin will now have two DBA's— Ross Valley Hardware and Ross Valley United Rent-Alls — the latter offering complete lines of contractors' equipment, gardening power tools, plumbers' tools, painting accessories, camping equipment, hospital supplies and baby equipment (strollers, highchairs, cribs, bouncers and the like).

He is being franchised by United Rent-Alls of Lincoln, Neb.

The store should be fully outfitted for display by April 1.

SPRING REMODELING. We notice that Sam Busschaert has gotten an early start and is giving his auto upholstery establishment at 1216 Third Street, San Rafael, a thorough going-over.

"We're putting in a new front to please the public, a new canopy along the side to please the men and give them more working space and a new office to please ourselves," he said.

The job should be completed by early April, including repainting.

WE HEAR from Gordon Iseman of Budd's Travel Tours in San Rafael that its operation "Earn and Learn" has been able to locate jobs for two College of Marin students who will participate in Budd's European educational and travel vacation this summer.

The boys will work 42 hours a week in a glass factory in Dusseldorf, Germany, still giving them time to enjoy their surroundings, he said. Each will receive DM600 per month (approximately $150). Arrangements have also been made for their housing at a nominal cost.

They will mix with German employees and are now busy studying the idiom with the help of German language records. Job assignments for other applicants are pending.

BUSINESS BRIEFS. Daniel H. Barber of Novato has been promoted from assistant to manager of the safety division of Standard Oil Co. of California. His offices are in San Francisco . . . Busy Bee Transmission Co., formally located at 509 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael, has now moved to 633 Irwin Street . . . Jimmy Johnson, former co-owner of Henry's Ol' Place in San Anselmo, has joined the sales staff of Nipper and Marchant, Realtors.

COLLEGE OF MARIN SHOWS PLAN FOR EXPANSION

Present and future buildings of College of Marin at Kentfield are drawn against background of aerial photo of the campus and its surroundings. Buildings shown in black now exist (1, Olney Hall; 2, chemistry; 3, Harlan Hall; 4, business education; 5, science; 6, art; 8, Dodson Hall; 9, industrial arts; 11, Fusselman Library). Buildings shown light are proposed (7, fine arts; 10, student center; 12, administrative; 13, warehouse and shops; 14, new gymnasium). Football field and tennis courts are at extreme left. Beyond them are practice football field, softball fields, women's playfield and additional parking. Plan, prepared by Falk and Booth, architects, is part of 11-million-dollar proposed expansion which would include second campus somewhere in North Marin. College trustees are considering asking 35-cent special tax to put plan on pay-as-you-go basis.

Soldier From Marin To Receive Award

The Army Commendation Medal will be awarded M/Sgt. Robert C. Morrill, 368 Via Hidalgo, Greenbrae, tomorrow at a special review in his honor at Fort Mason, San Francisco.

Morrill will receive the award for meritorious service in Korea, where he was in charge of perishable food shipments to Army units. He has been assigned to the Pacific Transportation Terminal Command headquarters at Fort Mason since February.

House Is Crashed By Runaway Truck

A runaway truck operated by Merz Brothers, excavating contractors, yesterday rolled down Myrtle Avenue and crashed into a retaining wall of a home at Myrtle and Glen Park in San Rafael.

San Rafael police reported a water truck owned by Ghilotti Brothers and rented by Merz Brothers struck the wall at the rear of the Joseph C. Serna home at 115 Myrtle Avenue.

Last Jan. 16, a driverless dump truck owned by Merz rolled down the same hill and dumped itself less than a block from the scene of yesterday's accident.

"If the barricade hadn't been there, the truck would have landed in our kitchen," Mrs. Serna said today.

Merz Brothers are excavating a subdivision on the hill above the area.

Mrs. Serna was one of a group of housewives who barricaded the street in January to halt the excavating operation. The city council later revoked Merz Brothers' excavating permit and issued a limited one which expires March 23.

Measles Still Lead Diseases

Measles continued to lead the list of communicable diseases reported in Marin County last week.

A total of 104 cases of measles were reported during the week to the county health department. Of these 61 were in San Rafael; 16 in Mill Valley; six in Novato; five in San Anselmo; three in Sausalito; two each in Corte Madera, Larkspur and Kentfield; one each in Belvedere, Ross and Fairfax, and four in other areas.

Health department officials say the number of cases of measles has been high this year throughout the state. During February 297 cases were reported in Marin.

Thirteen "strep" infections were reported last week: 10 in San Rafael, and one each in Fairfax, Ross and Kentfield.

Marin City reported one case of salmonella, an intestial infection, and San Rafael reported a case of viral meningitis.

Lagunitas School

Further budget discussion was held by the Lagunitas School District board last night as a special session which reached no conclusion and was adjourned in memory of County Clerk George S. Jones, who died yesterday. More budget discussion will be held at the next regular meeting March 22.

'Guys Like Roger Maris Bat A Round Zero With Me'

By OSCAR FRALEY

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (UPI)—Ralph Houk, during the days when he was a sometime catcher for the New York Yankees and regarded by many as a heap of dead kindling, realized something that Roger Maris may have to learn.

The major now directs the Yankee battalions with a suave, easy-going geniality, despite the lump of tobacco in his jaw. His is a command which he wears with befitting and becoming aplomb.

"But there were times," he admits of the days before he became manager, "when I sat in a corner for long periods of time and nobody came around to talk to me."

It could happen to Maris, the most pursued man of 1961.

Because all of a sudden he thinks he's another Ted Williams.

There are two ways of looking at such a self representation. First of all, despite those 61 home runs last season, anybody in baseball will give you 10 to 1 that Roger is only a fairly faint facsimile of the "Splendid Splinter." Williams was a hitter, and you can put that word in capital letters. Maris as a team hitter leaves more than somewhat to be desired.

Secondly, there are a number of people who wouldn't give you two used tea bags for Williams. And, like Ty Cobb, who wound up a very lonesome man in retirement, Williams isn't ever going to be elected the most popular man of the year in a nationwide poll. He'll pay from now on for the rocks he threw at people who wanted to be friendly.

So it is somewhat shocking when you hear Maris, the one-year wonder as of the moment, utter such inanities as:

"Ted Williams had the right idea. Go your way and let the writers go theirs."

And:

"I'm not going to say anything and let them write what they please."

And:

"Some writers have been fair. But I can't look at 30 writers and pick out 15 good ones and 15 bad ones. I'm through. No more talking."

Big deal.

A touch football player who once piloted an explosive speedboat talks to newspapermen about his plans to protect the lives of 180,000 people because he thinks it's important that the people know what's going on. Before him, a golfing fellow went through the same routine. Another speed crazy guy whipped up into orbit and back and didn't feel that he was too big to answer a lot of silly questions.

They're not even getting big fees for endorsing bubble gum, appearing on television programs, suggesting that the neighborhood kids quit using that ":goop" on their hair, peddling razor blades and having their names emblazoned on sweatshirts.

All at a fancy price.

As a man who puts the potatoes on the table by writing about sports and the men who are in them—and has been doing so since before Maris was even known in his home town—I find his whole big-headed attitude rather insufferable. Not because of the sportswriters he scorns. But because of the kids in Keokuk or Kankakee who read all the slushy lagniappe which those same sportswriters dish out about him while gagging over this puling pablum.

For a man who belabored the ball at a rather anemic .269 clip, I would have to think that Maris has a rather swollen idea of his importance. Sports are grand fun when kept in their proper perspective, but if either of my two sons was a hero, I hope it's a modest fellow named John Glenn who went for the circuit when it really counted.

Because guys like Maris bat a round zero with me.

Only A Couple Of Giant Rookies Are Likely To Stick With Them

HANLEY

PHOENIX — One thing should be clarified about the crop of rookies in the 1962 spring training camp of the San Francisco Giants. Regardless of the nice things said about them, only one or two are going to make the big team this year.

Dick Phillips appears to be the best bet to be around not only when the Giants open the season in Candlestick Park but a month later when the roster is cut to the mandatory limit of 25 players. Everyone now knows Phillips is 30 years old, spent 10 years in the minors and was a pretty fair clutch hitter at Tacoma last season with 98 RBI's on a .264 average.

Furthermore, he is a utility infield hand and the Giants need one.

After Phillips, we can't see any other infield rookie being retained by Alvin Dark. Harold Lanier, Cap Peterson and Gil Garrido are 19-year-old youngsters who must be returned to the Giants' farm system so that they can play and develop all of the promising talent they displayed here.

DARK HAS no serious intention of keeping any of those boys idle on the bench. It would be a disservice to them.

Now, as to the outfield rookies. Jose Cardenal and Arlo Engel still are at least two years away from major league consideration. That leaves Manuel Mota and Bob Perry.

Either Mota or Perry is the best bet to make the team after Phillips—and at the moment Mota is running a bit in front of his 1961 teammate at Tacoma.

Perry, a long ball hitter, belted 22 homers last season while hitting .280 for Tacoma. He is the kind of righthand hitter the Giants could use provided he proves his capability against major league pitching.

PERRY GOT his first chance to show his stuff in the opening game of the Cactus League season last weekend. But he failed in a bases-loaded, none out, ninth inning setup with the Giants trailing Cleveland at the time 4-5.

It was a tailor-made situation, one that any manager would welcome as a real pressure test of a rookie. Perry, over-anxious and perhaps a trifle nervous, struck out. The pitcher on the mound at the time was a sophomore southpaw, Bob Allen.

Perry is supposed to hit lefthanders but he didn't on this occasion.

While Perry was flunking his first test in that game, Mota passed his smartly. Also a righthand hitter but not a long ball belter, Mota delivered a pinch single. That was the only hit the Giants got off Jim Perry, the older brother of rookie Gaylord Perry, during three innings the Cleveland mound veteran worked.

FROM HERE on to the close of spring training, Dark is going to continue testing Perry and Mota in the same way and the chances are good he will keep one of them.

Even if you asked him, Dark couldn't tell you now which one he will keep. He never saw either of them in action until three weeks ago.

Run For Cover, Men! S.F. Hurlers Bombed

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI) — The San Francisco Giant pitching staff tries for a comeback today when the Boston Red Sox come to town.

The pitchers ducked for cover yesterday as the Giants pounded out a wild 14-11 win over the Los Angeles Angels.

Both teams went with front-line hurling talent and no moundsman looked impressive as the Giants rattled out 21 hits and Los Angeles 15.

Jack Sanford, Dick LeMay, Mike McCormick and Julio Navarro served them up for San Francisco with Navarro getting the win. The former New York Yankee, Tommy Morgan, took the loss after giving up five runs in less than an inning.

McCormick was especially disappointing for San Francisco. He got just one man out while the Angels collected four hits and four runs. A shoulder tightness that has been with Mike all spring was robbing him of his customary grace and speed.

HAPPY HITTERS

There were plenty of happy hitters around.

Los Angeles rookie catcher Bob Rodgers led everybody as he went 5-for-5 and collected two homers.

Twelve of the 15 Giants who performed hit safely, with Dick Phillips and Ed Bailey collecting three apiece. Each also contributed a homer.

Giants with two hits each included Matty Alou, Willie McCovey, Bob Perry and Gil Garrido.

The Giants almost blew it in the ninth. The Angels had scored twice, had two men on with nobody out and the tying run at the plate. Navarro, Giant rookie right-hander, managed to strike out the side and wind up the 3-hour, 3-minute marathon.

Willie Mays was hit on the leg by a hot grounder and Dark said later that was why he was pulling him out of the lineup although there was no injury.

"Willie's leg is okay but I don't believe in taking chances," Dark said of his $90,000-a-year star. "He will continue to take batting practice.

McCovey abandoned his left field spot and played first the whole day. He committed a bobble, but robbed Leon Wagner of a sure basehit later on to make amends. Orlando Cepeda sat out the contest, but could make his first spring start today.

The win gave the Giants and Angels both 3-2 records in Cactus League action.

Manager Al Dark planned to call on Billy O'Dell for five innings today with rookie Gaylor Perry expected to finish up.

2,000 Watch Rugby Match In The Rain

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The New Zealand rugby team ended its triumphant coast tour last night by dumping the Northern California Stars, 25-6, before a rain-soaked crowd of 2000.

The New Zealanders held a 9-3 lead at half-time. Winners of six straight games since their arrival two weeks ago, the New Zealanders left today to continue their tour in Canada.

Marin Tars Lose; Boxer Seeks Title

In spite of his third straight loss, College of Marin baseball coach Ed Grimm today said he is "quite pleased with the way the team is coming along."

Yesterday the Tars dropped a 4-1 decision to Contra Costa College in San Pablo, but two of three Marin pitchers hurled scoreless ball and the third was victimized by mental and physical errors by his teammates in giving up the four runs, said Grimm.

Starter Gordon McClosky pitched no-hit, no-run ball for the first two innings; reliever Russ Honeyman went five frames and gave up the four runs and three hits; and Bill Finn went the eighth inning, giving up two hits, but no runs, thanks to a defensive relay sparkler by outfielder Scott Moriarty and shortstop Jerry Ard.

Marin collected three hits, including a double by Ron Cole and singles by John Taylor and McClosky. The latter scored Marin's only run.

GOLDEN GLOVER

Marin's man in the Golden Gloves boxing tournament in San Francisco has worked his way for a crack at the heavyweight crown tonight.

Frank Gallardo of the Mar-Vel Athletic Club of San Rafael, was expected to hit the scales at about 250 pounds during weighins this afternoon. His opponent for the championship fight in the Novice Class will be Harry Simon, a longshoreman whose manager, ex-professional Newsboy Millich has been reported as saying Simon is a cinch to beat Gallardo.

Gallardo, a weightlifter, recently turned to boxing and the G.G. is his first crack at organized, competitive fighting.

The scheduled 19 bouts in both novice and senior classes will be at the Civic Auditorium, where tickets go on sale at 3 p.m. and the first bout begins at 8:30 p.m.

BASKETBALL BROADCAST

Radio station KTIM will broadcast today's Tournament of Champions opening game between the San Rafael Bulldogs and the McClymonds Warriors of Oakland, beginning at 5:55 p.m., from Berkeley.

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Browns announced plans yesterday for professional football's first doubleheader at Municipal Stadium Aug. 18.

The National Football League twi-night event will match the Detroit Lions and Dallas Cowboys in the opener and the Browns and Pittsburgh in the nightcap.

"Frankly, I'm convinced the public will welcome this kind of a pre-season attraction," said Arthur B. Modell, the Browns' chief executive officer who conceived the idea.

He said he didn't think the plan would work during the regular league season.

The Pipers moved up on idle Pittsburgh and knocked Chicago out of the lead by defeating the Majors 124-122 on Dick Barnett's basket with 20 seconds remaining last night. Hawaii's Chiefs beat the New York Tapers 110-95.

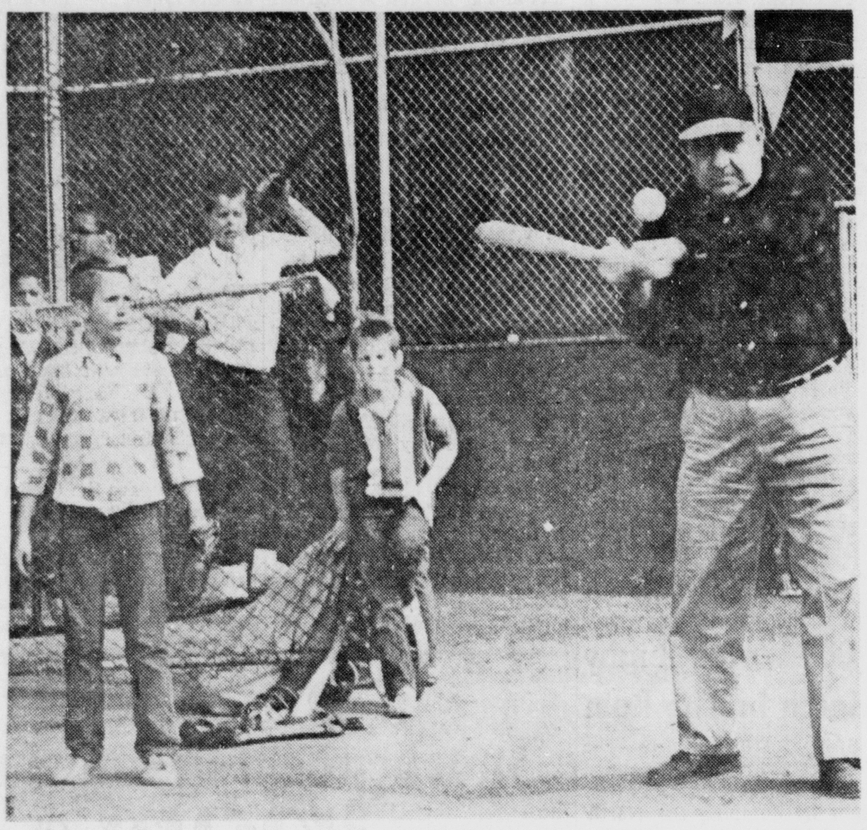
IT'S THAT TIME OF THE YEAR AGAIN

In the spring a young man's fancy turns to—baseball, and throughout Marin County these days thousands of youngsters are trying out for positions on the hundreds of junior baseball teams scheduled to play in dozens of leagues this season. These photos were taken at the San Anselmo Little League tryouts last weekend. Above instructor Walt Anderson explains the league program to a lineup of 10-11-12-year-olds. Above right four lads line up for some instructions on the fine art of catching a baseball. They are, from left, Charles Alvarez, Larry Sands, Carl Newby and John Farnkopf. Below, left, "old timer" Tony Simontacchi hits grounders for infield practice and below right Cam Mallory picks up a grounder and fires ball to first base during infield practice. Play ball, son!



Wilt—4,029 Points

CHICAGO (AP)—The Philadelphia Warriors' incomparable Wilt Chamberlain has wound up the regular National Basketball Assn. season with a record of 4,029 points, but he says "it does not mean a thing, if we don't win the title."

Chamberlain popped in 34 points last night in the Warriors' 119-115 overtime triumph over the Chicago Packers. It was the first time a professional basketball player has ever hit more than 4,000 points in a season. A year ago, Chamberlain was the NBA scoring champion with 3,033 in his second regulation season in pro ball.

In his first year of NBA competition, Chamberlain scored 2,707 points for a 37.6 average

Three other games last night ended the regular NBA season. The best-of-5 division semifinals start tomorrow night with the Syracuse Nationals against the Warriors in Philadelphia in the Eastern Division and the Cincinnati Royals against the Detroit Pistons in Detroit in the Western section.

Winner of the Eastern semifinals meets the Boston Celtics, the division leaders who will be seeking their fourth straight NBA championship. The Western Division winner opposes the Los Angeles Lakers.

Chamberlain's average for the 80-game schedule was just a shade above 50 points. He scored 100 points against the New York Knicks in Hershey, Pa., two weeks ago, but he said he got a bigger kick out of Wednesday night's 34 points which put him over the 4,000 mark.

"It was one of my finest games for the whole year," the 7-foot-1 Chamberlain said. "Not because of the points scored, but because of my defensive play.

"Scoring points has always been the same since the 10th grade in Overbrook High School," Chamberlain said. "But it doesn't mean a thing if we don't win the title."

In other NBA games, the Los Angeles Lakers defeated St. Louis 125-115 and Cincinnati's Royals squeezed out a 136-134 victory over the New York Knicks.

Redwood Swimmers Drown Riordan

Redwood High will seek its fourth straight victorious swimming meet tomorrow, 3:30 p.m. in San Francisco against Riordon High.

The Giants varsity swim team picked up its third victory of the season in a non-league drowning of Los Lomas, 57-38 yesterday.

The Redwood Bs fared less well. They were defeated 68-18.

Coach Eldon Bennett's varsity crew captured a bushel of first places, including the 200-yard medley relay.

Larry Herst grabbed the 50-yard freestyle in 25.1; Paul Foster, 100-yard butterfly, 1:02; Don Keller, 200 freestyle, 2.11; Ken Frost, 100 breaststroke, 1:06.2; Bill Anderson, 100 free, 56.3, and Bob Connell, diving, 119 points.

Members of the Giants' relay team were Doug Detrick, Frost, Foster, and Herst.

Tam's Tank Team Going Great Guns

Coach George Gustafson's Tamalpais swimmers are going great guns in the dawn of the 1962 season.

Yesterday they won their second straight meet. They whipped Pleasant Hills of Contra Costa County 47-39. And the Tam Bs, for the second contest in a row, swept every first place event.

The varsity's big swimmer this season, thus far, is Tinsley Stetson, and yesterday he was Tam's only individual winner. Stetson captured the 100-yard butterfly in 1:04.8.

Tam won the neck-in-neck meet by winning the relay events. The Indians' time in the 200 medley relay was 1:56.7. On that team were Steve Detsch, Duncan Green, Bob Scott and Doug Chambers. In the 200-yard free relay the winning time was 1:39.6. Team members were Tony DePrado, Jack Mosher, Brian Laurie and Bob Scott.

The class B final score was 64-13 for Tam.

Seals Finally In 3rd Place

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — It took almost the whole season but the San Francisco Seals have finally moved into third place in the Western Hockey League.

The Seals defeated Vancouver 3-2 last night and moved ahead of the idle Los Angeles Blades.

Nick Mickoski scored two goals and Len Haley sank one for the Seals. Phil Maloney scored the Canucks' two goals, both in the third period.

The Seals, hoping to stay in the spot that will get them into the league playoffs, have four games remaining, including one with Los Angeles.

Ben Hogan To Play Mar. 22-25, Miami

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Ben Hogan, four-time U.S. Open golf champion, will make his first competitive appearance of 1962 in a $50,000 tournament in Miami March 22-25.

Doral Country Club golf director Otto Fenias said Hogan telephoned him yesterday from West Palm Beach and said he would play.

Hogan ordinarily limits his tournament golf to three events a year—the Masters, the U.S. Open and the Colonial in his home town of Fort Worth, Tex.

ODDSMAKERS PICK DODGERS

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—The Las Vegas oddsmakers think the New York Yankees and the Los Angeles Dodgers will win the major league pennants this year.

The Yanks have been installed 1-2 favorites in the American League, the Dodgers 9-5 in the National.

Big Rookie Crop

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Los Angeles Ram general manager Elroy Hirsch said yesterday the Rams have signed a total of 20 rookies to report to the team's training camp in July.

Bressoud A Happy Ex-Giant

SCOTTSDALE — The Boston Red Sox training camp here brings back the roaring days of Wyatt Earp and Doc Holliday. It has a distinct Old West atmosphere with the "Rinky Dink" Piano, the Red Dog Saloon, Black Bart's Bar, and many other nationally famous spots where the TV characters gambol.

They call this part of Arizona the Valley of the Sun and even without smoke stacks the mushrooming town has become the third largest city in the state.

Right now one of the most talked of ball players with the Boston Red Sox is Eddie Bressoud, former Giant. now rated as the big man of the infield.

Eddie is glad to get away from the Giants, even though he picks 'em to win the 1962 National League pennant.

"I'M A regular shortstop here, not a substitute," Bressoud says. "I've always wanted to play regularly and it seems the old hex was on me at San Francisco. I never seemed able to make it. First it was Andre Rodgers who got the call over me and then along came Jose Pagan, so it wasn't healthy for me and I couldn't make much money sitting on the bench and raising a crop of corns."

The long ball hitter with the Red Sox got 17 homeruns in 1960 and Bressoud explains that he got a total of 18 playing two half years in a row. If he can put those two nine homeruns back to back in 1962, he will rate pretty high with the Sox.

THE GIANTS claim Eddie has a bad knee and felt they should sell him in the stocking pool and did. In 1961 Eddie went to bat only 25 times in two months and he claims that sort of stuff was awful.

"I never felt more miserable in my life than last year with the Giants," Bressoud explains.

In Boston leftfield is a short fence and inasmuch as he can pull a ball in that direction, he likes the idea of being in the lineup every day.

Manager Mike Higgins thinks his ball club will be good defensively and thinks he has a young and potentially great array of young pitchers.

"We might not terrorize the Yankees, but we'll be tough to beat even if we haven't any homerun belters in the lineup," he claimed.

THE LAST of the Boston club's punch left when Jackie Jensen folded his tent. Now his name, along with that of Ted Williams, is only a dream. Ted still is a batting coach and is expected here any day. But he's through as a player.

The Sox infield as of now includes Bressoud at shortstop, Charley Schilling at second, Pete Runnels at first and Frank Malzone at third base with Pumpsie Green the only utility man.

Carl Yastrzemski in left; Gary Geiger in centerfield and Carroll Hardy, once of the 49ers, or Lou Clinton, are in a hassle to see who is the regular rightfielder.

DONNY SCHWALL with 15 and 7; Ivan Delock, with 6 and 9; Bill Monbouquette who broke even with 14 and 14; Gene Conley with 11 and 14; are considered the likely starting pitchers. Mike Fornieles, Ted Wills, Chet Nicols, Tracy Stallard and Billy Muffett, former Giant, are the relievers likely to be around all season.

Muffett had arm trouble but is supposed to be ok now.

Billy Herman the old Chicago Cub infielder and Sal Maglie, former Giant, are coaches with the Sox.

Hey, Golfers, Let's Play By The Rules

By OSCAR FRALEY

MIAMI (UPI) — Not one feeble per cent of the nation's millions of golfers play the game by the rule book, lighthorse Harry Cooper of the plush Doral Country Club insisted today.

There was some consternation raised in this corner some time back when Joe Dey, executive secretary of the U. S. Golf Assn., was quoted as saying that 98 per cent played dishonestly. What Dey actually said was that only two per cent played it strictly honest.

Lighthorse Harry cuts that squarely in half and will make it even less than one per cent if you put the pressure on him.

"We in golf are concerned primarily with speeding up play," says Cooper, one of the golfing greats who is summer time pro at New York's Metropolis Country Club. "We should be more concerned with making people play the game by the book."

RULES BREAKERS

Aside from the pros, and the top amateurs, who really are only a drop in the golfing bucket, Old Fearless will make you a bet that if you pick out any average foursome you will find every member breaking the rules in one manner or another. With some it is unintentional. With most it is strictly intended.

Play the same ball from tee to cup, the rules say. How many do? Don't ground your club in a sand trap, not even on your backswing. Don't give it that winter rules jazz. It's a laughable situation unless you happen to be the one out of every hundred who is trying to adhere to the rules.

NOTHING FAIR

"I will bet you that, aside from the pros and the top amateurs, there isn't one per cent of the nation's players who have read the rules book from cover to cover," says Cooper, the 1937 Vardon Trophy winner, "and no more than 10 per cent of the people who play golf have even a 'fair' idea of the rules of golf."

There is nothing "fair" about golf. It has collapsed into a game of fleece or be fleeced.

"Golf pros are always giving clinics," Cooper said. "Well, twice a year at my club I get the players together and have a clinic on rules. It's a shame that this practice isn't followed at more clubs. Because what we need above anything else is a little more, I won't say honesty, but at least a little more willingness to follow the written rules of a game that is too fine a sport to be put into the realm of the old-time pool hall."

Which is where, if the nation's working pros don't pay a little attention, it is likely to wind up.

Meaning, in plain language, that there's just too darned much cheating on the golf courses of the nation in what to all intents and purposes is a "gentleman's" game.

Stolen Shot Guns, Rifles Are Found

Navy Sending Porpoises To School

POINT MUGU (AP)—Porpoises have turned out to be so bright the Navy's going to send six of them to school.

They'll start in an underwater kindergarten—a 50-foot diameter pool now being built beside a lagoon at this headquarters of the Pacific Missile range, where the sea-going mammals will be taught to count, fetch, tow objects under water and, hopefully, even talk.

While they're learning, Navy scientists will be learning, too.

The Navy wants to know how porpoises can swim so fast—up to 40 miles an hour—how they communicate with each other, and how their prey-spotting sonar works.

Answers to these questions could lead to torpedoes and submarines now envisioned only in science fiction. And who knows what else scientists will learn, once they start talking with porpoises?

Belief that porpoises can be taught to speak arose from experiments with a young female named Notty, who died a few months ago. Notty learned to recognize the words "ball," "hat," "ring," and "stick," and to fetch these items on voice command.

Porpoises apparently communicate with each other by means of beeps they make with the blow-holes in the tops of their bulging heads. While Notty was alive, scientists began recording these sounds and duplicating them in an effort to converse with Notty in her own language.

Despite her achievements, Notty was a dissapointment to Navy scientists. She wasn't very fast—16 knots was her best recorded speed—and there were rumors she wasn't too bright as porpoises go.

She may have been bored and lonely. Notty was always kept by herself in a special tank at Marineland in Los Angeles. They didn't want her picking up the horn-tooting, basketball-playing tricks of her show-business cousins.

Notty's successors won't have a chance to get lonesome, with six of the 200-pound six-footers in a pond not much bigger than a backyard swimming pool.

The pond is almost completed. Bulldozers have scooped out the basin and cables have been laid for the cameras and microphones which will record the porpoises' speed and speech.

The only thing lacking now is the porpoises. They haven't been caught yet.

Mrs. Anderson Will Attend Dinner Honoring Robert Frost

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

When Robert Frost, famous poet, is honored at a dinner March 26 on his eighty-seventh birthday in Washington, D.C., by Secretary of Interior Stewart Udall, and Mrs. Udall, Mrs. S. T. D. Anderson of San Rafael will be present.

Guests at the dinner will be President Kennedy and high ranking government officials. Robert Frost, you may remember recited a poem written for the Kennedy inauguration and another of his poems appropriate to the occasion. Frost was the first poet to ever participate in a presidential inauguration, Margaret Anderson says.

Mrs. Anderson, whose parents, John T. and Margaret A. Bartlett, were friends of the poet since they were his pupils at Pinkerton Academy in Derry, N.H., have a deep affection for him. Margaret Anderson has written a book about Frost using as a basis the letters written by him to her parents.

OF PARTICULAR interest to Margaret Anderson is the opening of the Frost Exhibition sponsored jointly by the Library of Congress and the University of Virginia. The Frost-Bartlett collection which belonged to Margaret Anderson, has been permanently placed in the collection of G. Waller Barrett in his library of Americana at the University of Virginia. Margaret believes it is the finest in the country. She has retained first publication rights and has been offered a contract by Holt, Rinehart and Winston for publication of her book.

SUNDAY Margaret will fly to New York to talk over publishing plans. Then go to Derry to get additional material for the book, see relatives, visit her alma mater at Wellesley and Frost at his home in Cambridge.

On to Washington for the Frost dinner and to Virginia to view the collection at the university. Then she'll visit her brother, Richard A. Bartlett in Tallahasee, Fla. Incidentally, he is having a book published by the University of Oklahoma Press this year. Margaret will be home on April 1.

FROST WAS born in San Francisco, where his father died when he was small. He went east and worked on a small farm until he went to Pinkerson Academy where he taught from 1907 until 1910. John Bartlett married his high school sweetheart, Margaret Abbot. He left college because of severe asthma and went to Vancouver in 1911 where he worked as a reporter on the Vancouver Sun and Vancouver News. The story is that Frost flipped a coin to decide whether he should go to Vancouver to be near his young friends or go to England. He went to England to start his career as a poet. His letters written to the Bartletts from there were the beginning of the collection of 60 letters covering a span of nearly 40 years. The friendship was so close and personal that it was not until two years ago when Margaret visited Frost that he gave permission for the letters to be published and the story told.

JOHN AND MARGARET Bartlett are remembered by Bay Area people as editors and publishers of the Author and Journalist magazine from 1945 to 1948. Stanton Coblentz of Mill Valley was one of the contributors. Alan Swallow of Denver published a book of poetry written by Mrs. Bartlett and Harper's published three business books written by John Bartlett.

Frost has three homes. He will come from the one in Florida to attend the birthday dinner. His other homes are in Ripton, Vt. and Cambridge. The birthday will be marked by the publication of Frost's new book of poetry, his first since 1947.

Margaret Anderson, wife of Doctor Anderson, a San Rafael psychiatrist, has six children, Bart, Kathy, David, Debbie, Christ and Molly, ranging in age from 12 to four. She has written articles for several magazines. She says Frost considers her collection of his letters one of three important ones, the other two being his letters to Sydney Cox, now at Dartmouth and to Louis Untermeyer, placed at the Library of Congress.

Margaret Mead Advocates Each Family Educating The Children

Mama, would you like to have a school in your kitchen? Do you want to try to teach your children to read, write, spell and do arithmetic? A woman anthropologist named Margaret Mead says schools are unnecessary. She says that you, Mama, can do your own teaching.

Dr. Mead is serious. She's not joking. I respect her. I've used her books a thousand times. When she speaks I'm ready to listen, but in this case I don't agree with her.

Back in colonial days our ancestors had what they called "kitchen schools." They were pretty much what Margaret Mead suggests for today. Mothers taught their children while they cooked, scrubbed or sewed. They were very busy. A few mothers were good teachers. Some were awful and many were illiterate. Consequently, children didn't learn very much.

The parents got together and started private little neighborhood schools. They hired the best-qualified mother to be teacher. They had her keep school in her home, and called these schools "Dames' Schools." But they weren't successful, either. They were expensive for the parents. Publicly supported schools took over. They proved to be better. Gradually we Americans evolved our present school system.

What do you think of Dr. Mead's proposal? Are public schools obsolete? Can mothers do the job teachers do? Do you have the time and energy for it? Or do you prefer the present method of educating your youngsters? What do you say, Mama?

Will you write and let me know? I've heard some big taxpayers say they approved of Margaret Mead's proposal. I can understand why. But how do you feel about it, mothers? I hope you'll express your opinion. Thank you for writing.

(A) Yes. Normal personalities can range from a shy, quiet child to a noisy boisterous one. Children are different, thank goodness.

Emerald Isle Lass To Direct Sale Of Green Carnations

Directing the sale of green St. Patrick's Day carnations opening tomorrow at Marin General Hospital will be a blue-eyed colleen from the Emerald Isle. She's Mrs. Gerald E. Madson of Belvedere-Tiburon, who also happens to be president of the Jonquil Branch of the hospital Auxiliary.

Hailing from Londonderry, where she met and married her American husband who was stationed in Ireland with the U.S. Navy, Mrs. Madson came to the United States 10 years ago. Mrs. Madson stayed in Minnesota with her husband's family while he spent eight months at sea, and then they settled in Colorado Springs, where Mr. Madson was a radio station engineer.

TO MARIN

Five years ago they came to Marin County and Madson became an electrical engineer with Burroughs.

Three years ago Mrs. Madson and the two youngsters, Kimberly, now 7, and Kevin, now 6, flew to Ireland for a family visit and she found it becoming more like the United States with "many more automobiles and such things."

"The Irish are a very contented and happy people," says Mrs. Madson. "Nobody's rushing. They take life easy and there is more family closeness than here." As a teen-ager in Ireland she enjoyed the dancing and trips to the beaches for swimming. But there was no bowling as there is here, she says.

Today, when not busy with her youngsters she does some sewing, and she and her husband have been trying some mosaic work for tabletops and lamps.

BEGAN SEWING

In fact is was her interest in sewing that led to her becoming president of one of the fund raising groups for the hospital.

"A group of about 12 of us in Belvedere and Tiburon used to meet to sew. But we decided we wanted to do something more," she explained. They made contact with the Marin General Hospital Service League. And when the Marin General Hospital Auxiliary was formed as the fund raising arm of the hospital, the sewing group became the Jonquil Branch of the Auxiliary.

"We are a small group, only about 15, and we plan a series of small events to raise funds," says Mrs. Madson, who heads the committee of Mesdames Robert Amundsen, Mary Ann Sokol and Don Minshall who have planned the two-day flower sale. "But all our members will do the selling," she says. The sale will begin tomorrow afternoon and continue informally through Saturday, with proceeds earmarked for the hospital, naturally.

They go all out in this country on St. Patrick's Day," she says with a smile. "I don't recall huge parades and all that at home."

Her guest list of 75 included not only the past presidents but several honorary members and those women who were members of the club at the time Mrs. Hettrich became a member in 1930. Personal friends were also present.

ALMANAC

Today is Thursday, March 15, the 74th day of the year with 291 to follow in 1962.

The moon is approaching its full phase.

The morning star is Saturn.

There is no evening star.

On this day in history:

In 1767, Andrew Jackson, seventh president of the United States, was born.

In 1916, Gen. John J. Pershing was ordered to proceed into Mexico with 12,000 soldiers to capture Pancho Villa, a Mexican revolutionary leader.

In 1935, Premier Malenkov of Russia, Joseph Stalin's successor, said that international disputes could be settled by "peaceful means."

In 1960, five Soviet Bloc nations and five Western nations started disarmament talks at Geneva.

A thought for the day: Joseph Stalin said: "History shows that there are no invincible armies."

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Planning Commission Should Decide What Its Job Is

Marin County faces a serious challenge and, we're sorry to say, the county agency which should be able to point us in the proper direction apparently has abrogated its responsibilities.

We're talking about the obvious traffic congestion which already is loading Highway 101 bumper to bumper during commute times.

We're talking about rapid transit, to which some had looked for relief of highway crowding.

And we're talking about the Marin County Planning Commission, which has apparently thrown up its hands and isn't inclined to be bothered about planning for ultimate movement of people in Marin.

The planners not only don't want to do the planning themselves, they don't want anyone else to do it; that is, not until some great super-planning agency, not yet even conceived, comes along and tells us what to do.

It seems to us that the county planners have for too long gone along with their little "spot zoning" projects of making each area an island unto itself. Community master plans thus far approved have been done with no consideration for the rest of the county.

The Tiburon master plan is an example. Although it must be obvious to everyone that one north-south highway is not long going to be enough to serve the people of Marin County and the north coastal area, and although Tiburon peninsula obviously will have to carry a north-south highway some day, its master plan makes no suggestion as to where and how it can be accommodated.

We don't know if a bridge or a tube or fast ferries will connect San Francisco and Tiburon. But we do know that something will and that that something will bring people and cars into the area. There should be some recognition of this fact in a master plan.

Tiburon planners seem to think the state should bring in a wide (but beautiful) highway into a dead-end turnaround for the sole convenience of the people of the area. And if the rest of the people of the county need a highway, they can look somewhere else.

We aren't being critical of people who like to protect what they have. We are being critical of county planning which ignores all the rest of the county in planning for one specific area.

A planning argument which led to the commission's vote to end studies for a Tiburon bridge were partly based on staff testimony that the bridge is "a link in an unknown chain."

Why is that chain unknown? Certainly the planning commissioners have known for years about a possible Tiburon bridge. Also they have the planning data, which their staff helped amass for the rapid transit commission. This told them North Marin, Sonoma and Napa counties alone would have three quarters of a million people by 1990 and that "several great cities, having populations in excess of 100,000, will have arisen . . . " in that area.

Did they think all that traffic could come over one Golden Gate Bridge?

It seems to us the time has come when the planning commission should sit down with the supervisors and decide what the commission's real function should be. Is it merely to pass on subdivisions; or does it have a real place in the long range planning of Marin County?

Right now, when the leadership of the planning staff is undergoing a change, seems like the ideal time for such a session.

MARIN LOOKS AT POLITICS

New 'Scenic Roads' Study Due To Be Handed To Legislators

By CHAPIN A. DAY

'CHIP' DAY

A report which may have far-reaching effects on Marin's highways of the future is due to be handed the legislature this week—probably tomorrow. It is the result of a year-long study by four state agencies on a statewide system of scenic highways. It also is an attempt to define a "scenic" highway and to lay down yardsticks for keeping them that way. (Whoops! They released it today, see page 8.)

Sen. Fred Farr (D-Carmel), who introduced the resolution setting up the study, said he is pleased with the results. Although he would not go into detail, he said the report would propose "corridors" of scenic areas, rather than trying to define which roads should be scenic. Farr pointed out that a winding two-lane road might well be a scenic highway, while a four-lane divided freeway, like Highway 40 overt he Sierra, might be another.

The study is expected to propose a major plan for landscaped parkways, roadside rests and other recreational and scenic facilities along the highways.

Farr said he envisioned huge, straight freeways connecting major population centers, plus scenic routes for people not in a hurry. He said both California and national surveys have shown that recreational driving is the leader by far in all types of recreational activities.

The report probably will have a definite impact in Marin, particularly on the Shoreline Highway to and in West Marin. Also on highways which will lead to the new Point Reyes National Seashore.

Farr doesn't expect this report to be conclusive. He says it will recommend further study and an additional report to the 1963 legislature. At that time he probably will introduce legislation to bring the scenic roads system into being.

MARIN SENATOR John F. McCarthy wants the federal government to give all of Angel Island to the state so it can all be made into a state park.

Plans are already in the works for its development by the Division of Beaches and Parks. But the federal government hasn't let go yet.

So McCarthy is having the legislative counsel draw up a joint resolution, which he will introduce in the Senate, calling on the Secretary of the Interior and the federal Bureau of Land Management to turn over the island to the state and, because of its historical significance, without cost to the state.

MARIN SCHOOLS are making good use of this short budget session of the legislature to give students a real view of how government works.

Every day since the session opened, Marin schools have had students in Sacramento. On Tuesday, for example, school classes from Ross, Edna Maguire of Mill Valley and Isabel Cook of San Anselmo filled one of the largest hearing rooms in the Capitol.

Speaking to them takes time of the legislators; but they don't mind. All of those children have voting parents and they'll be voters themselves before too long.

The Country Parson

"Most churches don't need better preachers as badly as they need better listeners."

20 YEARS AGO

A San Rafael Citizens' Committee headed by Carlos R. Freitas reported that it had completed nine months' study of administration and management aspects of city government, perhaps to be embodied in the charter.

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

A few days ago our county assessor published in the I-J what appeared to be the usual reminder that veterans must apply for their $1,000 tax exemption.

What the notice failed to point out was that the exemption does not apply to any veteran owning property of more than $5,000 value. (If married $5,000 to the veteran and $5,000 to the wife.)

The disturbing part is that from what I have observed, the assessor's office makes little effort to point out to the applicant he must meet these qualifications (it is not something he is automatically entitled to), and that he is guilty of perjury for false reporting.

The veterans I have talked with on this subject seem to feel that it is up to the assessor to find out they are cheating. How about a newspaper campaign to do some educating?

Check Before Signing Petition

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Recently a man in Sausalito urged me to sign a petition, asking for the recall of two local councilmen. Since I do not attend council meetings, I was not able to check from my own knowledge, several assertions he made to me. He sounded reasonable, so I signed the petition.

I have since checked with the fire department, and reviewed the new zoning map, and I find that some of his statements were not true. Therefore, I have called the city clerk, requesting that my name be removed from that petition.

I would advise anyone who is asked to sign this petition, to check the facts before you decide.

Doctors Been Too Self-Seeking

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

This is with reference to the Marin medics story in Marin Magazine for March 3:

Dut to the coercive methods and false propaganda of the American Medical Association, many of its members are brain washed and refuse to stand up and be counted. Also they seldom realize that the A.M.A. is probably the most backward, grasping, anti-social and irresponsible trade union in our country.

There are many medics who oppose this type of legislation in good faith. Instead of listening only to the false propaganda of the A.M.A., they should take the time to look into the real need for such a program. This need has been thoroughly verified and documented by numerous organizations, both private and public.

Although the legislation has been strongly urged by Democratic and Republican administrations for many years, it has always been defeated by the lavish expenditure of money and effort by the A.M.A., the insurance companies and others who profit directly by maintaining the status quo.

There are many humanitarian medical men but seldom are they articulate like the cold, selfish and smug members of the profession. The medical profession has rightly earned an unfavorable image by its consistent "Public be Damned" posture whenever there is a demand for its service at a price the public can afford to pay.

The profession has lived high on the hog for several decades without public control, but does not seem to realize that ours is a democratic society and the public patience is growing thin.

I am a member of that fast growing group of citizens past 65. While I am fortunate in not needing federal aid, I am well aware that several million members of the same group do need this aid, and by the standards of a civilized country, they are entitled to it. They should get it now without further obstruction by self-seeking groups . . .

Rant, Rave Of Horrible Things

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Reference to E. L. Daggett's letter about Marineland in Mill Valley it is a rambling, absurd, and idiotic story which is tops in ideas for someone who is against anything and everything that is different.

The only way to make them happy (if possible) would be to leave everything just as is, with the exception of posting signs at the city limits stating Anyone With Progress in Mind Stay Out.

With all the noise of a catastrophe, stuffed with dire predictions these negative people rant and rave of the horrible things that will befall us if we allow this project into Mill Valley.

But the Marineland can be built and operated successfully and in a few years after its completion nobody will remember the negative ones the same as nobody remembers who said the Golden Gate is only an idea for dreamers and can't be built.

Hadden Roth Scheduled To Quit As Deputy DA To Join Law Firm

Hadden W. Roth is expected soon to wind up his time as a Marin deputy district attorney and become a partner in the firm of Bagshaw, Schaal, Martinelli, Weissich and Jordan.

Both Roth and his boss and friend, Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety, are sitting on the official announcement, but courthouse circles expect Roth to make the shift late this month or early April.

Interesting background includes the fact that Roth already has served with two of his future partners.

He put in a year as San Rafael deputy city attorney under Albert E. Bagshaw and later was hired into the district attorney's office by then Dist. Atty. William O. Weissich in January, 1959.

Roth and Weissich are good friends despite numerous differences of opinion, over capital punishment, politics and other things. For instance, Roth is a Democrat; Weissich a Republican.

SPEAKING OF Garety, he had a solid hunch Saturday morning about the jury deliberating to try for a verdict in the second murder trial of Robert Burdette Rogers.

"I think before the day is out they'll either have a verdict or be deadlocked," he said. Sure enough, despite saying as late as the noon hour that they were "making progress," they announced later in the day they were hopelessly deadlocked and Judge Thomas F. Keating had to dismiss them.

Judge Keating said in chambers while the jury was still out, he liked my column in tribute to my father, Herbert D. Wyatt, who died Dec. 31. I remarked that H. D. Wyatt was quite a man and I doubted I could emulate his tenacity.

The judge replied he felt the same towards his father, whose picture on the wall he indicated: A 1926 photo of the late Sheriff J. J. Keating.

MANNY CHARNOW, Marin's Mr. Senior Citizen, and I met last week during one of his occasional visits to the city room. Manny's the man who volunteered to quit his hospital bed and make a courthouse protest after the then Board of Supervisors stuffed County Administrator Alan Bruce into Cell 300, a cubbyhole office, last July.

I replied to Charnow that I was all for the Senior Citizens. The truth is I've been feeling like one myself for a long time. I hope I can in the remaining years alloted to me retain half the vigor shown by some men and women many years older than I.

TIBURON TYCOON Frederick G. Zelinsky and bouncing new Supervisor Peter H. Behr became acquainted Saturday on the occasion of the Tiburon-San Francisco ferry trip. Each would like to see a return of regular ferry service across the bay. Any chance of combining on a plan, gents?

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Dr. Teller Was Right; Least We Can Do Now Is Read His Book

WASHINGTON—It is reassuring to have William C. Foster, head of the Arms Control Agency, state that tighter, not weaker, inspection will be demanded at Geneva —if there is to be a test ban.

The blunt fact is that the means for detecting underground nuclear tests, which the U. S. once tabled at Geneva and which we casually assumed would do the job, have twice proved unequal to the job.

FOR SOME inexplicable reason — perhaps a form of disarmament mesmerism — the Eisenhower administration sent a team of nuclear experts to Geneva late in 1958 to advance an unproved 180-station control system.

Would it work? Some must have thought so. But these scientific negotiators could not have been more unscientific because their findings rested upon a lone underground test of 1.7 kilotons.

Five more underground tests were conducted in the next few months. It quickly became evident that the proposed control system was unreliable.

Recently some 20 further underground tests have been conducted in Nevada to determine whether they can be detected by seismic measurement. The answer is no.

IN LIGHT of these now undisputed facts and in light of the breach by the Soviets of the test-ban moratorium it seems to me that the least we can do is try to repair the unfairness of all the criticism which was directed for so long against one of the nation's most distinguished and dedicated scientists. I refer to Dr. Edward Teller, who had to suffer the opprobrium of being right from the beginning.

Dr. Teller, the Hungarian-born physicist who has devoted the talents of much of his adult life to strengthening the defenses of the United States and the free world — when he would have preferred to teach or work on peaceful uses of nuclear power—infuriated the pacifists, annoyed his colleagues, and distressed the wishful thinkers by being foresighted when they were being misled.

Before the opening of the 1958 Geneva conference of nuclear experts—and after—Dr. Teller foresaw the uninspected test moratorium as a Soviet trap. He foresaw correctly. He warned that the uninspected truce in testing could be a Soviet trap. He warned correctly. He kept urging the American government to resume its nuclear experiments. He urged wisely.

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER promised himself that he would not accept an uninspected moratorium for more than a year. But we negotiated for three years—to no avail.

Dr. Teller was right from the beginning, and in his new book, "The Legacy of Hiroshima" (Doubleday), he writes about it with great mellowness.

He asks for nothing—neither apology nor amend. But I can think of two things we can do—not for him, but for ourselves: read his book and be more attentive to his advice in the future. It is an exciting, lucid, arresting book.

I think reading "The Legacy of Hiroshima" is a duty. You will also find it a pleasure.

John Wayne is telling about the long-bearded prospector who marched into an assayer's office in the gold rush days and planked two whopping nuggets on the counter. The clerk's mouth opened wide in amazement. "Well, don't just stand there," nudged the prospector angrily. "Assay something!"

There's a couple in Brentwood who have had four trial separations in two years, but still have managed to keep their shaky marriage going. So for this year's anniversary their best friend gave them a dozen towels embroidered, "Hem" and "Haw."

One of those sick comedians swears that an earnest do-gooder was heard asking, "Wouldn't you like to contribute to Indian relief, Mrs. Custer?"

If You Want Best Results, Learn To Bid Aggressively

In general, aggressive bidding pays big dividends. If you bid a sketchy game the opponents have to find the right defense. Even the best opponents may slip, as we can see from a hand played last month in the world championship.

Opening lead — ♠ 5

When the English held the North-South cards they "stole" the hand by bidding game in notrump. East-West had a cold vulnerable game in hearts, but they let South take the hand away from them.

Even if South had gone down, he would have been pleased with the result. The defenders could have taken five heart tricks and the ace of clubs, for a fat score of 100 points. In the other room of the match. East played the hand at four hearts for a score of 620 points, so that the English were sure to gain at least 520 points no matter what happened.

DEFENSE SLIPS: Actually, the English gained far more than 520 points. Our defenders slipped, and South made his game contract.

West opened the five of spades, and South won with the jack. He then rattled off six rounds of diamonds. The defenders had to find discards, and they fumbled a bit. Don't blame them too much. Nobody likes to discard on a long suit.

West's failure to open a club should have warned East that his long heart suit was the only hope. Actually, East discarded a couple of hearts and West also parted with a heart. Hence South could develop a club trick with safety, since the defenders could then take only three hearts and one club.

South scored 400 points, and the English thus made a net gain of 1,020 points on this innocent-looking hand. Chalk it up to aggressive bidding.

DAILY QUESTION: Partner opens with 1 NT (16 to 18 points), and the next player passes. You hold:

♠ K 7 6 5 4
♥ J 7 5 4
♦ J 10 3
♣ 8

What do you say?

Answer: Bid two spades. Even though you have length in both majors you cannot afford to bid two clubs (the Stayman Convention) to ask for partner's major suit. Reserve such a bid for times when you have at least 8 points in high cards and can hope for a game.

Blinding Sun, Cloud Of Dust —Then Smash!

Driving eastward into blinding sun, a Belvedere housewife Tuesday discovered the hard way that a cloud of dust contained a State Division of Highways road sweeper. Both she and her 4-year-old daughter suffered minor injuries in the resultant crash.

Mrs. Georgia Mae Stroud of 273 Karen Way, with her daughter Janette, had just left the Alto interchange with Highway 101 when the Stroud car rammed the sweeper, also going east at five miles an hour. Julius Hyland of Petaluma, its driver, said he had red warning flashers going but Mrs. Stroud told the California Highway Patrol she saw nothing but the dust cloud.

Mother and daughter declined hospitalization though bruised and cut.

Mill Valley Planners Vote Traffic Plan

The Mill Valley Planning Commission Tuesday night voted 4-2 to recommend to city council a change in traffic circulation at the East Blithedale-Ashford avenues intersection.

Voting against the recommendation were Commissioners A. A. Hemmerling and William Secor.

Changes are recommended by City Engineer Stanley M. Bala to try to eliminate the accident potential on a 300-foot strip running directly from Ashford into East Blithedale.

Bala proposes that the strip be blocked by a divider strip or double line, that Ashford be made one way, westward, in this strip, and that curbs be placed at Lou's Chevron Station to permit customers to enter at but one or two places. There would also be a U-turn in front of the station and the "Welcome to Mill Valley" sign would be removed.

For the Discriminating

This spacious home is one that truly accomplishes the purpose of its design—gracious country living. From the louvered doors of the separate dining room that open out upon 800 ft. of living room area (ingeniously designed to provide space for much furniture that won't obstruct the hilltop view of mountain and trees in both directions), to the master bedroom suite with its dressing room, to the 2,000 ft. of concrete patio overhung by a graceful old oak tree, the details testify to the careful planning this beautiful homesite deserves. 4 bedrooms, TV room, 2½ baths, floor to ceiling used brick fireplace against redwood paneled wall, dining area in kitchen, and closets galore, detached level space for swimming pool—here is the county's best buy for a discriminating buyer—all on a hilltop LEVEL lot in exclusive restricted neighborhood. $54,750. DRAMA TO AID DEMOCRATS

Peggy Evans and Myrl Britton appear in a scene from "The Glass Menagerie," which the Gate Five Players will present at a fund raising theater party for the Mill Valley Democratic Club March 23 at 8:30 p. m. at the Gate Playhouse in Sausalito.

Marin's Police, Firemen Getting Radiation Kits

The Marin Disaster Office announced today all police and fire departments in the county soon will be supplied with radiological instrument kits.

The kits are being received from the federal government and distributed to local governments by the state, said Mrs. Jean H. Smith deputy assistant director.

Forty-nine of the kits are being assigned to Marin. Each kit consists of three survey meters, two dosimeters, a dosimeter charger and two protective masks.

Mrs. Smith said the kits will be distributed as soon as she receives them to the following: all police and fire departments, the North Marin County Water District, Marin Municipal Water District, Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co., Pacific Gas and Electric Co., all four county general hospitals, Civil Air Patrol, California National Guard Reserve, College of Marin and these county offices — Sealer of Weights and Measures, Department of Public Works, Health Department, sheriff and Mosquito Abatement District. One kit will be retained in the disaster office.

Fifteen states have passed laws specifically prohibiting employers from discriminating against workers because of their age.

Museum Cage Plan Approved

Plans for six new outside animal cages were approved Tuesday night by the board of the Boyd Natural Science Museum in San Rafael.

Director Murray Dailey said these will improve both the animal display area and the living conditions of the animals. The cages will be constructed adjacent to the existing animal room and under a covered walkway.

He reported that a California black bear was recently acquired and is housed in a new cage near "Easter," a Gray's Harbor seal.

Fourteen new members were welcomed, increasing the size of the board from 16 to 30 members.

Manitoba Marshes On Audubon Series

Cleveland P. Grant of Wisconsin will present the last in the current Marin Audubon Society series of Audubon Screen Tours at 8 p.m. tomorrow in Olney Hall, College of Marin.

Grant will show his film, "Heart of the Wild," filmed in the Manitoba marshes and the Rocky Mountains. It shows natural habitat that must be preserved to prevent extinction of wildlife.

Architectural Approval Committee Appointed

A three-member committee to screen applications for architectural approval has been appointed by the San Rafael Planning Commission.

City Planner James R. Garrett estimated that at least 20 per cent of the almost 600 cases handled last year by the commission were for architectural approval. Planners have long felt their meeting time might be shortened and better planning achieved if a portion of the technical work were reviewed before a full meeting of the commission.

Appointed by planning commission chairman Pat Heatherton were commissioners Carl Brown, Gene F. O'Connor and Elmer Welcher.

The three were instructed to elect a chairman, set meeting dates and rules of procedure and report to the commission on March 27.

The committee would study and make recommendations on all architectural approval applications for final action by the full commission.

Nature Lecture Due At Church

A former Audubon Society lecturer and bird imitator will lecture and show movies at the First Presbyterian Church in San Anselmo Saturday night.

Bert Harwell of Berkeley will show the film, "Adventures in Nature," at Duncan Hall, 72 Kensington Road. The lecture and movie, open to the public, will begin at 8 p.m.

The Come Double Club, headed by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Andersen, is sponsoring the lecture and movie.
